Major Producers Studying Move To Boost Steel Price

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under notice that the government won't do business with the price-boosters, the bulk of the nation's steelmakers showed wariness today about joining the Bethlehem Steel Corp. in its structural steel price increase.

A matching $5 a ton increase by Inland Steel Corp. took effect today, four days after Bethlehem's announcement on price boosts for structural steel framings. A small producer, Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp., posted a $3 increase.

MANILA (AP) — Foreign Secretary Narciso Ramos said today if South Viet Nam falls to the Viet Cong, the Philippines "could wake up the next morning and find the Communists trying to subvert our own government."

He indicated that only a token force should be sent for psychological effect, saying it should "not substantially reduce the combat capability of our military forces for their tasks at home." The Philippines now has only one combat-ready army division.

Cong Forces Strike Back At Allies

U.S. Paratroop Push Continues Through Swamps

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Large Viet Cong forces struck back tonight at South Korean marines and Vietnamese paratroopers on a search-and-destroy mission near the coastal city of Tuy Hoa, 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said the allied force, supported by artillery, killed eight guerrillas and captured eight while taking light casualties. This raised the number of Communists claimed killed in the operation to 180.

The outbreak of fighting shifted attention from the big U.S. paratroop push into the Mekong Delta west of Saigon. The 173rd Airborne Brigade sloshed through the swamps around Bao Trai, 20 miles west of Saigon, but did not come in contact with the main guerrilla elements in the area. One brief skirmish, however, produced casualties on both sides, U.S. spokesmen said.

The suspension of U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam continued for the 12th day with no indication when orders would come from Washington to resume the attacks. U.S. planes last attacked the Communist north just before the start of the 30-hour Christmas cease-fire on Dec. 24.

As air attacks continued in the south, a Navy Skyraider supporting the 173rd Brigade was shot down by ground fire. The pilot bailed out and was picked up by an Army helicopter, a spokesman said.

As the U.S. paratroopers in the Mekong Delta neared the Cambodian border, Cambodia warned it would send troops into South Viet Nam if South Vietnamese or U.S. forces crossed the border.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk's government, in a letter to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, forwarred a resolution of the Cambodian National Congress saying Cambodia is "determined to defend its territory and air space against criminal and unjustifiable aggressions of the United States forces and their accomplices."

"Cambodia will respond to every act of war by an act of war," it added.

The resolution denied U. S. charges that the Viet Cong are using Cambodia as a sanctuary and staging area for attacks on South Viet Nam. On Dec. 21, the U.S. State Department said American military commanders had been authorized to pursue retreating Communist forces into Cambodia if they were still firing.

Administration officials have denied emphatically any intention to impose price controls. The new orders which went out to purchasing officers actually were no more than strong directives to buy where the government gets the best price.

This could be a powerful weapon, however, for the government directly or indirectly consumes about one-fourth of the nation's output of structural steel framing.

U.S. Envoy Visits Nasser

CAIRO (AP) — U.S. Special Envoy W. Averell Harriman arrived from Tehran today to discuss U.S. policy in Viet Nam with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Harriman told newsmen at the airport Johnson had asked him to come to Egypt "to talk with President Nasser on Viet Nam."

"The purpose of my visit is to inform him of recent developments, to listen to anything he has to say and to reply to any questions he may have."

Nasser maintains contacts with the Hanoi regime and has expressed a desire in the past to mediate in the Vietnamese conflict if assured in advance that such an effort would have a chance of success.

Irish Feud about Herring, Ships Are Rammed in Latest Donnybrook

WATERFORD, Ireland (AP) — Like many an Irish argument, it started with a goodwill gesture. Like many another, it came to a fight and promises still more fights to come.

The argument is the Irish herring war, in which annually fishermen from Northern Ireland and the republic in the south bombard each other with whatever is at hand, usually bottles.

This year it took a more serious turn. After throwing bottles about, they started throwing the ships about.

Two Northern Ireland skippers, sailing under the Union Jack, claimed their trawlers were rammed Monday by southern skippers to whom the British flag is a symbol of centuries of suppression, not to mention competition.

The engagement ended with the 1,020-ton corvette Macha, one-third of the republican navy, firing a warning salvo across the bows of the republic's fishing fleet and hauling one of its own citizens off to jail.

The case opens Friday in Waterford Court, with this charge against Michael Ornen, skipper of the trawler Ardent:

"That on January 3, within the territorial waters of the state, lying off Baginbun Head, County Wexford, he unlawfully and maliciously did damage a trawler, the Victory, the property of William McKee, with intent to render it useless, contrary to the Malicious Damage Act, 1961."

The fish feud dates from 1960 when the republican government, anxious to improve relations with the British-ruled north, decreed that northern trawlers could fish in republican waters despite their allegiance to the British crown.

This decision brought no cheers from the southern fishermen. Their anger mounted when McKee and the Victory sailed into their home port last week and landed the biggest catch of herring ever put on an Irish shore.

Those herring were caught in republican waters, and herring are scarce off Europe's shores this year. Dutch, German and Scandinavian buyers were waiting on the quay with checkbooks ready.

McKee and eight other northern trawler skippers put back to sea at dawn Monday and soon found a good shoal of herring. Then, they said, the republ-cans appeared and the bombardment started. Bottles, coal and lumps of lead went flying from boat to boat. The radio waves were jammed with anti-British songs like "Kevin Barry," a device, the northerners claimed, to prevent them calling for help.

The Victory reached port with her bow stove in and taking water. A second northern trawler, the Westburn, radioed that she too had been rammed but was in no danger. No charge was made in her case.

Extra police were ordered into Waterford in preparation for the court hearing Friday. They will be on hand to cope with any demonstrations by the outlanded Irish Republican Army, sworn enemies of British influence in Ireland.

India-Pakistan Chiefs Meet For Initial Round of Talks

TASHKENT, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The leaders of quarreling India and Pakistan shook hands today and sat down to talk for the first time since they went to war against each other in September.

President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan and Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India, watched over by Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union, met in a villa on the outskirts of this Soviet central Asian city.

The tall, handsome Pakistani leader, dressed in a dark business suit and wool Pakistani cap, walked over to Shastri as he arrived at the villa and extended his hand.

Shastri, wearing a sheet-like dhoti and coat, shook hands.

Soviet security was so tight that newsmen could not get within a mile of the meeting place.

Premier Kosygin led the delegations to a second-floor conference room, an Indian source said, and seated them at a large circular table.

With Kosygin were Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky. Ayub was accompanied by Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto and Shastri by the Indian ambassador to Moscow, T. N. Kaul, and other aides.

The first meeting this morning lasted 40 minutes and a Soviet spokesman would say only that issues between India and Pakistan "were discussed in a preliminary way."

It was thought that Kosygin attempted to get Shastri and Ayub to agree upon a firm agenda that could lead the talks toward a lessening of tension between the two countries.

Newsmen and photographers were admitted just before the leaders gathered again for luncheon, and neither Shastri nor Ayub appeared to enjoy being photographed together. Kosygin several times rearranged the lineup, pulling and pushing Shastri and Ayub, together for the benefit of the cameramen and moving lesser officials to the rear.

Both India and Pakistan have indicated they plan no significant concession of the main irritant to their relations — the Himalayan state of Kashmir. Both claim it.

There was some expectation, however, that Ayub, Shastri and their aides might work out plans for withdrawal of their troops from the cease-fire line established after the September war or for a resumption of normal diplomatic relations.

The two governments have indicated that their leaders are prepared to spend six or seven days in Tashkent if only so they cannot be accused of breaking off negotiations.

Transit Union Chieftain Defies Judge, Is Arrested

NEW YORK (AP) — Union leader Michael J. Quill was arrested today for contempt of a court order forbidding this city's bus and subway strike.

A judge Monday night directed that Quill and eight other officials of two unions be sent to jail until they purge themselves by ordering "in good faith" their 34,400 men back to work.

The arrest occurred at noon. While awaiting the arrival of sheriff's men, Quill continued his defiance.

"The judge can drop dead in his black robes," the 60-year-old leader of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union declared. "We will not stop the strike."

Shortly thereafter, Quill and his colleagues moved into the contract negotiations room where Quill asserted:

"We're going to compel the sheriff to remove us from the bargaining table as a sign of how collective bargaining is being conducted in 1966."

The Transport Workers Union and the AFL-CIO Amalgamated Transit Union paralyzed the vast city transportation system at 5 a. m. New Year's Day.

Supreme Court Justice Abraham N. Geller Monday night found the union leaders guilty of civil contempt for flaunting the court injunction the city had obtained to block the walkout of 34,400 bus and subway workers.

Geller ordered that the jailing could occur at any time after 11 a. m. today.

The Transport Workers Union, headed by Quill, and the Amalgamated Transit Union, both AFL-CIO, are demanding more pay, shorter hours and other benefits. Although trimmed by what Quill said was 80 per cent, the Transit Authority estimates the two-year package would cost $216 million.

The Transit Authority on the eve of the strike offered a $25-million settlement.

Hourly wages for the transit workers currently range from $2.75 for a change booth clerk to $3.46 for a motorman.

Tentative Schedule For Appropriations Adopted by Members

Robert L. Brehmer Jr., 895 Atwater Ave., was re-elected president of the Circleville Board of Education Monday during the board's annual organizational meeting.

Renamed to the vice presidency of the school board was E. G. Grigg. Two members who were re-elected to office at the polls in November were administered the oath of office by Miss Mary Ellen Rader, board clerk. They are Mrs. Rosemary Mader and Richard Bowers.

A second major item handled during the brief meeting was the adoption of tentative appropriations for the year. Total money appropriated was $1,018,538.87, compared to the actual appropriation of $968,481.49 in 1965.

Superintendent Fritz Jacobs noted today the tentative appropriation schedule is based on estimated receipts for the coming year. The board will have until April 1 before the final schedule is adopted.

HERE IS a breakdown of the tentative appropriation schedule: personal services (salaries) $885,275; supplies $57,300; equipment replacement $10,950; contract for open order $49,225; fixed charges $4,300; capital outlay $4,750; contingent $2,458.87; materials for maintenance $4,300.

The board also scheduled its regular monthly meetings for 7:30 p. m. of the second Tuesday of every month again this year.

Reams Notes Stand on State Post

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Frazier Reams, D-Lucas, said today he is interested in the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor but only if the gubernatorial nomination goes to someone other than fellow Toledoan Frank W. King.

Reams said he would support King for the top job but that joining him on the ticket would give the Democratic slate an unfavorable geographic balance.

King, Ohio Senate Democratic leader and president of the Ohio AFL-CIO, is a top prospect for the gubernatorial nomination. He is expected to say Thursday whether he will make the race.

Reams' Senate seat was jeopardized by the new legislative reapportionment. It placed him in the predominantly Republican First District where he would have to run against veteran GOP Sen. Ross People who already is actively campaigning for re-election.

Bombing Pause Is Continued By President

Latest Hanoi Blast Doubtful To Be Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was expected today to continue his Vietnamese peace offensive, including the pause in bombing the north, long enough to give North Viet Nam what officials here call ample time to decide for or against entering peace negotiations.

Public denunciations of the peace drive as "deceitful and hypocritical" which came from Hanoi Monday are so far not regarded by the U.S. policy makers as decisive. The United States is still awaiting some more official kind of response which presumably would come from the Hanoi government either in a public declaration or through diplomatic channels.

The suspension of air strikes against North Viet Nam is now in its twelfth day, having begun with the Christmas truce. So far as can be determined no date has been set for resumption.

The whole situation, including the progress of the U.S. peace offensive, is said to be under a daily review by President Johnson and his top advisers with developments measured against the general guideline of allowing ample time for the leaders in North Viet Nam to decide.

Northwest U.S. Pelted By Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow, rain and strong winds strafed the Far Northwest today.

Biting cold hung on in Montana.

Rain doused an area from north central California into Washington and snow swept across the higher elevations through Idaho and Montana. Southern Montana was to get from 3 to 5 inches of snow during the day.

East of the Continental Divide in Montana the mercury remained below zero for more than 24 hours. The temperature ranged from 15 to 20 below zero in Cut Bank, Mont., since noon Monday. Great Falls, Mont., recorded 19 below this morning, while in Missoula—200 miles to the west—the reading was 39 degrees.

A storm which loosed rain, sleet and snow on many sections of New England Monday, eased off and only a few snow flurries drifted across the area.

Showers were scattered along the Gulf Coast from Texas to Florida, but sunny skies prevailed from Southern California to the Ohio Valley.

Delay Indicated In OSU Decision

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Trustees of Ohio State University apparently will have an extra month to consider the embattled proposal to build a $300,000 home for the OSU president.

A poll of the nine-member board indicated that a quorum will not be present for the January meeting.

OSU President Novice G. Fawcett has requested the board to drop plans for the mansion.

Clermont County Plans Airport Site Search

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Clermont County officials are to make an aerial survey Wednesday of possible sites for a proposed county airport. Tom Noonan, president of Aviation Center Inc., Cincinnati, will conduct the survey.

County Commissioner Ralph Houser said the county is eligible for up to $100,000 in state funds for construction if the county obtains land for an airport and contributes at least $25,000 toward it.

Question Raised: Who's 'Essential'?

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City's transit strike is leaving thousands of "essential" executives alone at their desks, sleeve-deep in paper work usually done by "unessential" secretaries and clerks who stayed home.

Mayor John V. Lindsay had appealed earlier to workers to stay out of the city unless they were "essential," but he didn't say who was essential. In many offices Monday it was a strange picture: the boss opening his own mail, running errands, getting his own coffee.

It was enough, you might say, to make an executive wonder who was essential — he or the secretary. If he was, then what was he doing opening the mail?

"Usually you get hit with something like a snowstorm and the executives stay home," said one company official. "Looking around me, I see more executives than clerks."

This was the result of a selective effect. Much of the city's vast clerical population lives in Queens, the Bronx and other areas dependent upon buses and subways.

Their bosses, usually more affluent, often live in the suburbs from which trains and buses were running. Or else they live in fashionable East Side Manhattan areas within walking distance of the office.

"Where material has to go out, management people are rolling up their sleeves and doing clerical jobs," said a company spokesman. "Routine matters we just have to let ride."

Ohioans Die In Viet Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Ohio toll of servicemen's death in Viet Nam has risen to at least 76 through 1965 with the addition of an Army man previously listed as missing.

He was Sgt. Louis S. Gutierrez, son of Alex L. Gutierrez of Youngstown.

The Ohio casualties, based on Defense Department next-of-kin listings, include at least 61 killed in action—40 Army, 17 Marines, 2 Navy and 2 Air Force.

The other 15 died of "non-hostile" cause, such as accidents or disease.

The total number of American servicemen killed by enemy forces in Viet Nam since Jan. 1, 1961, has reached about 1,600.

The board also scheduled its regular monthly meetings for 7:30 p. m. of the second Tuesday of every month again this year.

Supreme Court Justice Abraham N. Geller Monday night found the union leaders guilty of civil contempt for flaunting the court injunction the city had obtained to block the walkout of 34,400 bus and subway workers.

Geller ordered that the jailing could occur at any time after 11 a. m. today.

The Transport Workers Union, headed by Quill, and the Amalgamated Transit Union, both AFL-CIO, are demanding more pay, shorter hours and other benefits. Although trimmed by what Quill said was 80 per cent, the Transit Authority estimates the two-year package would cost $216 million.

The Transit Authority on the eve of the strike offered a $25-million settlement.

Woman War Reporter Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marguerite Higgins, 45, noted war correspondent and Pulitzer Prize winner, died Monday of complications resulting apparently from a tropical parasite.

She had entered the hospital in November shortly after returning from Viet Nam. She had been a columnist for the Long Island (N.Y.) newspaper, Newsday, since 1963, after working as a correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune for 21 years.

Miss Higgins, who was born in Hong Kong, was married to retired Air Force Lt. Gen. William E. Hall.

Bombing Pause Is Continued By President

Latest Hanoi Blast Doubtful To Be Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was expected today to continue his Vietnamese peace offensive, including the pause in bombing the north, long enough to give North Viet Nam what officials here call ample time to decide for or against entering peace negotiations.

Public denunciations of the peace drive as "deceitful and hypocritical" which came from Hanoi Monday are so far not regarded by the U.S. policy makers as decisive. The United States is still awaiting some more official kind of response which presumably would come from the Hanoi government either in a public declaration or through diplomatic channels.

The suspension of air strikes against North Viet Nam is now in its twelfth day, having begun with the Christmas truce. So far as can be determined no date has been set for resumption.

The whole situation, including the progress of the U.S. peace offensive, is said to be under a daily review by President Johnson and his top advisers with developments measured against the general guideline of allowing ample time for the leaders in North Viet Nam to decide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow, rain and strong winds strafed the Far Northwest today.

Biting cold hung on in Montana.

Rain doused an area from north central California into Washington and snow swept across the higher elevations through Idaho and Montana.

Southern Montana was to get from 3 to 5 inches of snow during the day.

East of the Continental Divide in Montana the mercury remained below zero for more than 24 hours. The temperature ranged from 15 to 20 below zero in Cut Bank, Mont., since noon Monday. Great Falls, Mont., recorded 19 below this morning, while in Missoula—200 miles to the west—the reading was 39 degrees.

A storm which loosed rain, sleet and snow on many sections of New England Monday, eased off and only a few snow flurries drifted across the area.

Showers were scattered along the Gulf Coast from Texas to Florida, but sunny skies prevailed from Southern California to the Ohio Valley.

Reams Notes Stand on State Post

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Frazier Reams, D-Lucas, said today he is interested in the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor but only if the gubernatorial nomination goes to someone other than fellow Toledoan Frank W. King.

Reams said he would support King for the top job but that joining him on the ticket would give the Democratic slate an unfavorable geographic balance.

King, Ohio Senate Democratic leader and president of the Ohio AFL-CIO, is a top prospect for the gubernatorial nomination. He is expected to say Thursday whether he will make the race.

Reams' Senate seat was jeopardized by the new legislative reapportionment. It placed him in the predominantly Republican First District where he would have to run against veteran GOP Sen. Ross Pepple who already is actively campaigning for re-election.

Clermont County Plans Airport Site Search

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Clermont County officials are to make an aerial survey Wednesday of possible sites for a proposed county airport. Tom Noonan, president of Aviation Center Inc., Cincinnati, will conduct the survey.

County Commissioner Ralph Houser said the county is eligible for up to $100,000 in state funds for construction if the county obtains land for an airport and contributes at least $25,000 toward it.

Area Boards of Education Reorganize for 1966 Year

The boards of education of Pickaway County's three school districts all reorganized for 1966 in separate meetings last night.

The Teays Valley board named Everett Beers as president to replace Orville Dountz who did not run for reelection in the past general election.

Beers, who was vice president, was replaced by Orland Hines. Mrs. Siebert Duvall, who is not a member of the board, was employed as clerk of the board.

Other members are Joe Voss, William Huston and William Hinkle. The latter two are new members, replacing Gene Tosca and Orville Dountz.

At Westfall, Shirley Bowser, Williamsport, was elected president of the Westfall Board of Education. Vice president is Troy McPherson, Derby.

Brice Connell of Derby was reemployed as clerk of the board. Other members are Lawrence Reid, Derby, Cooke Metzger and Don Schleich, both of Williamsport area. The latter two were sworn in as new members of the board.

Wesley Graves Jr. was named president of the Logan Elm Board of Education, and David Bolender vice president.

Lawrence McKenzie, who is not a member of the board, was appointed clerk for a four-year term.

Other members of the board are Carolyn McCoy, Arthur Leist and Roger Hobbie.

The Logan Elm board meets the first Monday of each month. The Westfall board meets the third Monday and Teays Valley the fourth Monday.

Routine approval of appropriations and reorganization was the primary order of business at the meetings.

However, at Logan Elm, the board set up a policy of economy measures.

Attempts to pass a four mill operating levy at the school failed in the general election and again in a special election Dec. 7, necessitating the economy measures.

A detailed description of the new Logan Elm policies will be published tomorrow in The Herald.

Bombing Pause

how they want to handle the situation.

Policy makers here are said to be convinced that there is a division in Hanoi between those who would like to find some way to bring the fighting to a close and in effect transfer the struggle for control of South Viet Nam to the conference table and those who favor continuing the war at any cost.

It is also widely believed in Washington that Communist China is putting heavy pressure on the Hanoi government to continue the fight while Soviet policy, so far as it can be brought to bear in Hanoi, is believed to favor a negotiated solution.

Alexander N. Shelepin, top Communist Party official in Moscow, is due in Hanoi late this week for talks with the North Vietnamese government. His apparent purpose will be to discuss Soviet military and economic assistance to North Viet Nam. Whether he will try to exert an influence for peace is said to be unknown in Washington but U.S. officials are obviously hopeful.

Last February Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin visited Hanoi. His arrival coincided with the start of U.S. bombing attacks on North Viet Nam. This coincidence created difficulties in relations between Washington and Moscow until the United States finally persuaded the Russians that the bombing was not undertaken deliberately to embarrass Kosygin.

Against the background of this experience it appeared unlikely that Shelepin's visit would be disturbed by a resumption of U.S. air strikes in the North. Another consideration in the duration of the bombing pause is the fact that when a previous suspension was ordered by the President last May it lasted only five days and the United States was subsequently criticized for not allowing more time for peace efforts to take effect.

Meanwhile, roving ambassador W. Averell Harriman was to confer today in Cairo with United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdul Nasser, while G. Mennen Williams, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, was to meet in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, with President Julius Nyerere. They have been carrying the U.S. peace drive to several capitals.

Klan Official Says Records 'Destroyed'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A witness before the House Committee on un-American Activities testified today that he burned records and documents so they wouldn't fall into the hands of the Ku Klux Klan.

John D. Swenson of Bossier City, La., was called as a witness in the committee's probe of the Ku Klux Klan.

When asked whether he had brought records and documents as requested by the committee, he consulted for some time with his attorney, then told the committee:

"Sir, the records you're referring to I don't know what you... but any records or documents that I had... this all was burned, destroyed completely."

Asked who burned them, Swenson replied, "I did."

"So they wouldn't get into the hands of the enemy?"

"Who is the enemy?"

"The Communists."

Swenson was identified as a Klan official in testimony taken in closed session last July and released today. The witness was Royal B. Young, who also named himself as a Klan official.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Moody said the bodies were discovered by two women who had gone to the Gephart home to visit. Moody said both men apparently had been dead for several hours because "the blood was dry."

Moody said the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification at London, Ohio, was called into the investigation. He declined to name the man being sought but described him as being 5-foot-8 and weighing about 145 pounds.

Another Gephart son lives in the house but apparently was not there at the time of the slaying. Officers declined to speculate as to the motive for the killings.

News of World in Brief

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A man and woman burned to death Monday night when a stolen car smashed into a bridge on Ohio 128 north of Ross.

Sheriff's deputies said the bodies were burned beyond recognition, and it was early today before the victims were identified as Miss Rose Hazelwood, 31, of Hamilton and Robert T. Bekemeier, 29, of Millville.

The sheriff's office said Miss Hazelwood, who was driving the car, had been implicated in a home burglary in northwest Butler County. The car had been reported stolen Monday afternoon.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Booms reverberated through the Cincinnati Workhouse Monday. Police rushed to the scene in force.

They checked out the cell blocks where the explosions were heard.

The cause: Firecrackers smuggled in by a prisoner.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Plain Dealer said today it has learned that President Johnson will come to Cleveland late next month to receive a major award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The newspaper quoted informed sources as saying confirmed officials have confirmed the President's visit but have not determined the date of the Award Dinner.

The President is national chairman of Brotherhood Week, which will be observed Feb. 20-26. The conference was said to be hopeful that the dinner could take place during that week.

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ohio (AP)—An elderly man and his son were found stabbed and beaten to death Monday night in their home just outside this Coshocton County village, the sheriff's office reported.

The sheriff's office said a search was started immediately for a 23-year-old man who had been living with the victims. He apparently fled in a car owned by one of the victims, deputies said.

Dead were Lewis Gephart Sr., 84, a retired factory superintendent, and his son, Francis E., 49. Missing was the younger Gephart's new orchid-colored Chevrolet.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Moody said the bodies were discovered by two women who had gone to the Gephart home to visit. Moody said both men apparently had been dead for several hours because "the blood was dry."

Moody said the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification at London, Ohio, was called into the investigation. He declined to name the man being sought but described him as being 5-foot-8 and weighing about 145 pounds.

Another Gephart son lives in the house but apparently was not there at the time of the slaying. Officers declined to speculate as to the motive for the killings.

Falls resulted in injuries for two persons who were treated in the emergency room at Berger Hospital yesterday.

David Terry, 58, of 827 Pershing Drive, fell at home and broke his right leg. He was transferred to University Hospital, Columbus.

Brian Miller, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, Route 3, received care and was released after he fell from a tree and injured his left arm.

Car Theft Reported To Circleville Police

The Circleville Police received a report yesterday evening a 1961 model car had been stolen from the parking lot at Super Duper on North Court St.

Mathias R. Siddle Jr., of Chillicothe, an employee of the market, reported the vehicle was taken between 1 p. m. and 8 p. m. yesterday.

Americans have the highest per capita consumption of paper in the world, about 479 pounds a year.

Damage was estimated at $10. Firemen believe the small blaze was caused by a cigarette.

City Firefighters Douse Sofa Blaze

The Circleville Fire Department was called to the home of Lewis White, 152 York St. at 9:30 p. m. yesterday, where a sofa had ignited.

Damage was estimated at $10. Firemen believe the small blaze was caused by a cigarette.

Reagan To Toss His Hat in Ring

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Film star Ronald Reagan is ready to step onto California's hectic political stage today with the announcement that he will seek the Republican nomination for governor.

His decision to run would put Reagan against former Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco and Laughlin E. Waters, who has served in the Assembly and as U.S. attorney for Southern California. A San Rafael cosmetics manufacturer, William Patrick, who also has announced his candidacy, is little known in party circles.

Republicans who class themselves as moderates are backing Christopher and Waters. Reagan, 1964 cochairman of California Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, has the support of GOP conservatives.

Woman's Will Contested in County Court

Legal action has been put into effect in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court to contest the last will and testament of the late Sophie J. Heckel who died here June 30, 1965.

Plaintiffs of the suit, children of Mrs. Heckel who are contesting the will admitted to Probate Court here on July 15, are Hulda Heckel Hoover of Tucson, Ariz.; Christian Heckel, Route 3, Zanesville; and Sharon Heckel Davis, McConnelsville, O.

Harold Defenbaugh, 347 Meadow Lane, 11 other persons and organizations and unknown heirs of Mrs. Heckel are named as defendants. Defenbaugh was also named a defendant of the suit as executor of the estate.

In addition to Defenbaugh, a nephew, other beneficiaries under the will in question are Pearl M. Defenbaugh, 346 Meadow Lane; A. Pauline Defenbaugh Long, Route 1, Gettysburg, Pa.; The Indianola Methodist Episcopal Church, Columbus; Women's Society Christian Service; The Tarlton Methodist Church; Anna Ruth Kelley, Dayton; Lois Jones, Route 4; Mary Ann Delong, Laurelville; Barbara D. Mead, Xenia; and Edith D. Everette, Route 1, Laurelville.

According to an inventory appraisal of Mrs. Heckel's estate, filed in Probate Court on Aug. 2, 1965, there was $41,965.23 in stocks and securities in her possession at the time of her death.

The plaintiffs claim that the will probated by Defenbaugh on July 15, 1965, is not the will their mother intended. They allege that she was physically and mentally incapacitated when the document was executed. They claim the will was in a dresser drawer at her home on May 15, 1962.

They allege that they are the beneficiaries of Mrs. Heckel under a will executed prior to the date of the "purported will."

The Heckel children's petition states that Defenbaugh, about May 15, 1962, "removed said will, other papers and stocks and bonds and the decedent, Sophia J. Heckel, to Circleville, where she was placed first in his home and then removed to a home for persons suffering from mental and physical disabilities of the aged."

The plaintiffs allege that a copy of the will executed by Mrs. Heckel is in the possession of the law firm of Lucas-Prendergast - Albright and Warren of Columbus.

Plaintiffs are asking the court for a restraining order against Defenbaugh from making disbursements under the terms of the "pretended will."

Cage Tournament Advance Ticket Sales Are Halted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio High School Athletic Association announced today that it is discontinuing the advance sale of tickets for the state high school basketball tournament to the public.

OHSAA Commissioner Paul Landis said the association's state board of control took the action because of the great demand for tickets from school personnel.

Landis said that after all orders from member schools have been processed for the March 25-26 tournament, tickets remaining will be made available to the general public and will be sold at St. John Arena the week of the tournament.

The commissioner also announced that plans have been completed to again telecast the Friday and Saturday night AA games on a statewide basis.

Juvenile Treated For Wrist Wound

A 17-year-old juvenile incarcerated in the Circleville Jail was taken to Berger Hospital yesterday for treatment of a self-inflicted wound of his wrist. Police said the wound required five stitches to close.

Woman's Will Contested in County Court

Legal action has been put into effect in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court to contest the last will and testament of the late Sophie J. Heckel who died here June 30, 1965.

Plaintiffs of the suit, children of Mrs. Heckel who are contesting the will admitted to Probate Court here on July 15, are Hulda Heckel Hoover of Tucson, Ariz.; Christian Heckel, Route 3, Zanesville; and Sharon Heckel Davis, McConelsville, O.

Harold Defenbaugh, 347 Meadow Lane, 11 other persons and organizations and unknown heirs of Mrs. Heckel are named as defendants. Defenbaugh was also named a defendant of the suit as executor of the estate.

In addition to Defenbaugh, a nephew, other beneficiaries under the will in question are Pearl M. Defenbaugh, 346 Meadow Lane; A. Pauline Defenbaugh Long, Route 1, Gettysburg, Pa.; The Indianola Methodist Episcopal Church, Columbus; Women's Society Christian Service; The Tarlton Methodist Church; Anna Ruth Kelley, Dayton; Lois Jones, Route 4; Mary Ann Delong, Laurelville; Barbara D. Mead, Xenia; and Edith D. Everett, Route 1, Laurelville.

According to an inventory appraisal of Mrs. Heckel's estate, filed in Probate Court on Aug. 2, 1965, there was $41,965.25 in stocks and securities in her possession at the time of her death.

The plaintiffs claim that the will probated by Defenbaugh on July 15, 1965, is not the will their mother intended. They allege that she was physically and mentally incapacitated when the document was executed. They claim the will was in a dresser drawer at her home on May 15, 1962.

They allege that they are the beneficiaries of Mrs. Heckel under a will executed prior to the date of the "purported will."

The Heckel children's petition states that Defenbaugh, about May 15, 1962, "removed said will, other papers and stocks and bonds and the decedent, Sophia J. Heckel, to Circleville, where she was placed first in his home and then removed to a home for persons suffering from mental and physical disabilities of the aged."

The plaintiffs allege that a copy of the will executed by Mrs. Heckel is in the possession of the law firm of Lucas-Prendergast - Albright and Warren of Columbus.

Plaintiffs are asking the court for a restraining order against Defenbaugh from making disbursements under the terms of the "pretended will."

City Firefighters Douse Sofa Blaze

The Circleville Fire Department was called to the home of Lewis White, 152 York St. at 9:30 p. m. yesterday, where a sofa had ignited.

Damage was estimated at $10. Firemen believe the small blaze was caused by a cigarette.

Area Boards of Education Reorganize for 1966 Year

The boards of education of Pickaway County's three school districts all reorganized for 1966 in separate meetings last night.

The Teays Valley board named Everett Beers as president to replace Orville Dountz who did not run for reelection in the past general election.

Beers, who was vice president, was replaced by Orland Hines. Mrs. Siebert Duvall, who is not a member of the board, was employed as clerk of the board.

Other members are Joe Voss, William Huston and William Hinkle. The latter two are new members, replacing Gene Tosca and Orville Dountz.

At Westfall, Shirley Bowser, Williamsport, was elected president of the Westfall Board of Education. Vice president is Troy McPherson, Derby.

Brice Connell of Derby was reemployed as clerk of the board. Other members are Lawrence Reid, Derby, Cooke Metzger and Don Schleich, both of Williamsport area. The latter two were sworn in as new members of the board.

Wesley Graves Jr. was named president of the Logan Elm Board of Education, and David Bolender vice president.

Lawrence McKenzie, who is not a member of the board, was appointed clerk for a four-year term.

Other members of the board are Carolyn McCoy, Arthur Leist and Roger Hobbie.

The Logan Elm board meets the first Monday of each month. The Westfall board meets the third Monday and Teays Valley the fourth Monday.

Routine approval of appropriations and reorganization was the primary order of business at the meetings.

However, at Logan Elm, the board set up a policy of economy measures. Attempts to pass a four mill operating levy at the school failed in the general election and again in a special election Dec. 7, necessitating the economy measures.

A detailed description of the new Logan Elm policies will be published tomorrow in The Herald.

News of World in Brief

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A man and woman burned to death Monday night when a stolen car smashed into a bridge on Ohio 128 north of Ross.

Sheriff's deputies said the bodies were burned beyond recognition, and it was early to man and woman burned to death Monday night when a stolen car smashed into a bridge on Ohio 128 north of Ross.

The sheriff's office said Miss Hazelwood, who was driving the car, had been implicated in a home burglary in northwest Butler County. The car had been reported stolen Monday afternoon.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Booms reverberated through the Cincinnati Workhouse Monday. Police rushed to the scene in force.

They checked out the cell blocks where the explosions were heard.

The cause: Firecrackers smuggled in by a prisoner.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Plain Dealer said today it has learned that President Johnson will come to Cleveland late next month to receive a major award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The newspaper quoted informed sources as saying conference officials have confirmed the President's visit but have not determined the date of the Award Dinner.

The President is national chairman of Brotherhood Week, which will be observed Feb. 20-26. The conference was said to be hopeful that the dinner could take place during that week.

2 Coshocton County Men Are Slain

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ohio (AP)—An elderly man and his son were found stabbed and beaten to death Monday night in their home just outside this Coshocton County village, the sheriff's office reported.

The sheriff's office said a search was started immediately for a 23-year-old man who had been living with the victims. He apparently fled in a car owned by one of the victims, deputies said.

Dead were Lewis Gephart Sr., 84, a retired factory superintendent, and his son, Francis E., 49. Missing was the younger Gephart's new orchid-colored Chevrolet.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Moody said the bodies were discovered by two women who had gone to the Gephart home to visit. Moody said both men apparently had been dead for several hours because "the blood was dry."

Moody said the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification at London, Ohio, was called into the investigation. He declined to name the man being sought but described him as being 5-foot-8 and weighing about 145 pounds. Another Gephart son lives in the house but apparently was not there at the time of the slaying. Officers declined to speculate as to the motive for the killings.

Car Theft Reported To Circleville Police

The Circleville Police received a report yesterday evening a 1961 model car had been stolen from the parking lot at Super Duper on North Court St.

Mathias R. Siddle Jr., of Chillicothe, an employee of the market, reported the vehicle was taken between 1 p. m. and 8 p. m. yesterday.

Americans have the highest per capita consumption of paper in the world, about 479 pounds a year.

Policy makers here are said to be convinced that there is a division in Hanoi between those who would like to find some way to bring the fighting to a close and in effect transfer the struggle for control of South Viet Nam to the conference table and those who favor continuing the war at any cost.

It is also widely believed in Washington that Communist China is putting heavy pressure on the Hanoi government to continue the fight while Soviet policy, so far as it can be brought to bear in Hanoi, is believed to favor a negotiated solution.

Alexander N. Shelepin, top Communist Party official in Moscow, is due in Hanoi late this week for talks with the North Vietnamese government. His apparent purpose will be to discuss Soviet military and economic assistance to North Viet Nam. Whether he will try to exert an influence for peace is said to be unknown in Washington but U.S. officials are obviously hopeful.

Last February Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin visited Hanoi. His arrival coincided with the start of U.S. bombing attacks on North Viet Nam. This coincidence created difficulties in relations between Washington and Moscow until the United States finally persuaded the Russians that the bombing was not undertaken deliberately to embarrass Kosygin.

Against the background of this experience it appeared unlikely that Shelepin's visit would be disturbed by a resumption of U.S. air strikes in the North. Another consideration in the duration of the bombing pause is the fact that when a previous suspension was ordered by the President last May it lasted only five days and the United States was subsequently criticized for not allowing more time for peace efforts to take effect.

Meanwhile, roving ambassador W. Averell Harriman was to confer today in Cairo with United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdul Nasser, while G. Mennen Williams, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, was to meet in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, with President Julius Nyerere. They have been carrying the U.S. peace drive to several capitals.

Klan Official Says Records 'Destroyed'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A witness before the House Committee on un-American Activities testified today that he burned records and documents so they wouldn't fall into the hands of the enemy.

John D. Swenson of Bossier City, La., was called as a witness in the committee's probe of the Ku Klux Klan.

When asked whether he had brought records and documents as requested by the committee, he consulted for some time with his attorney, then told the committee:

"Sir, the records you're referring to I don't know what you... but any records or documents that I had... this all was burned, destroyed completely."

Asked who burned them, Swenson replied, "I did."

"Why?"

"So they wouldn't get into the hands of the enemy."

"Who is the enemy?"

"The Communists."

Swenson was identified as a Klan official in testimony taken in closed session last July and released today. The witness was Royal B. Young, who also named himself as a Klan official.

Most of the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. King were with them during the holidays. Present on Christmas Day were their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King and children Victor, Bryan and Delvin of Chillicothe; another son and wife Mr. and Mrs. Jerry King and children Patty, Becky, Wilmer, and Jerry Lee of Clarksburg; and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mowbray of Columbus. The Mowbrays remained overnight and Sunday.

Mrs. Willard Yapple visited with her son, Ralph, and his wife and son, in Columbus at Christmas. Her daughter, Mrs. James Leist came Tuesday to see her mother, and returned to Dayton Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Leist, who live in St. Petersburg Beach, Fla., spent Christmas with their sons, Jim and Tom and their families in Dayton. Mrs. Leist returned to her home in Florida on Friday.

Mrs. Leland Yapple of Hallsville entertained Mrs. Willard Yapple and Mrs. Leist to dinner Wednesday at Pickaway Arms.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Janes and children arrived Wednesday before Christmas to visit their grandmother, Mrs. Elsie Norman of Hallsville and Mrs. Janes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Williams, and Becky in Kingston. The Janes family returned to their home in Denver, Colo., on Wednesday.

Christmas Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Courtwright and son Guy Jr. at their home north of Kingston were Mrs. Courtwright's father, Mrs. James Hoffines, her brother, Mr. Samuel Hoffines, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Stauffer of Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Davis held their annual Christmas

Eve buffet supper for the family and friends. Present were Mrs. John Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis and sons; Mr. and Mrs. Winston Hood from Mt. Vernon, Miss.; Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lightner, Mrs. Lois Jones and Miss Margaret Thomas.

Mr. John Davis, who is in Florida, talked to the family by phone in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jattinson left on Wednesday before Christmas to spend two weeks at Orlando Beach, Florida.

Christmas guests of Mrs. F. B. Mowery and son, Lloyd, were her son-in-law and daughter, Attorney and Mrs. Brown Pettit and son, Mike, from Lima. They arrived on Friday and remained through Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graves, County Line Road, had as their holiday guests their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Becker from New York City. Their daughter, Sydney, is a teacher in Junior high school there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sunderland were in Hamilton Sunday for a Christmas dinner with their daughter, Mrs. Dan Trueman, Mr. Trueman and their five grandchildren. Two of the grandchildren, Donna and Kendall, came back with them on Monday and were taken home by the grandparents on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Reed of Harbor Hills visited Miss Ora Rittenour several days the past week. On Christmas Day, the three of them went to Delaware to spend the day with their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfe and daughters.

Jerry Patrick, a senior at Ohio State University, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dane Patrick. Jerry was in Brazil with the Peace Corps the past two Christmases, so this was a real celebration. His father, Mr. Dane Patrick, who has been in Florida for his health, returned home for the weekend. On Christmas Day, they were guests of Mrs. Patrick's sister, Mrs. Joe Downs, Mr. Downs and their children at Orient. Jerry's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Patrick, were also among the guests of the Downs family.

Mrs. John Davis was also a dinner guest at the Raymond Davises.

Farm Product Prices Climb 11 Pct. in '65

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm product prices closed the year 11 per cent higher than at the beginning. Much of the boost is attributed to recent advances in markets for meat animals.

An Agriculture Department report showed today that farm product prices as a whole made an unusually large rise of 4 per cent between mid-November and mid-December.

Insofar as farm buying power was concerned, the higher returns received for agricultural commodities were offset in part of an increase during the year of 3.5 per cent in the cost of goods and services used by farmers in production and in family living.

The prevailing farm price level at the end of 1965 was the most favorable since the mid-1950s.

Reflecting the uptrend in farm markets, agricultural prices ended the year at 80 per cent of the parity price goal of federal farm programs. A year ago it was 75 per cent.

The most spectacular advances during the year included hogs, up from $14.80 a hundred pounds at the end of 1964 compared with $26.80 at the end of 1965; beef cattle, up from $17.40 to $21.30; butterfat, up from $9.8 cents a pound to 62.4 cents; lamb, up from $19.20 to $24.10; limes, up from $3.90 a box to $10.70; dry beans, up from $7.93 a hundredweight to $9.16; eggs, up from 33 cents a dozen to 40.9 cents; and pears up from $2.42 a bushel to $3.22.

Products which lost ground included potatoes, cotton, hay, most feed grains; sweet potatoes; and soybeans.

Prices reached by hogs in December were the highest since 1948. Short supplies of slaughter animals was the major factor.

Ohio Dems Taking Look at GOP Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Political maneuvering in advance of Ohio's 66 election campaigns indicates the Democrats will take long, searching looks at GOP prosperity and new jobs claims.

Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes makes it clear that he regards "more jobs without more taxes" as the keystone in his anticipated bid for re-election to a four-year term.

And leading Democratic gubernatorial prospects indicate that they also look upon those issues as major.

Senate Democratic Leader Frank W. King of Toledo, Ohio AFL-CIO president, says that while a possible 200,000 new jobs may have been created in Ohio during Rhodes' nearly three years in office, it is hardly anything for the governor to brag about.

King says Ohio failed to keep pace with the national new job average during that period of business prosperity, which he attributes to the tax cut policies of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

And Congressman - at - large Robert F. Sweeney of Cleveland says he has figures to show that Rhodes' new jobs claims are phony.

Rhodes sticks to his policy of silence under such attacks but some of his cabinet members are less reticent.

Development Director Fred Neuenchwander recalls that detractors scoffed at Rhodes' early goal of 200,000 more Ohio jobs through industrial expansion.

He says the new job total now exceeds 222,000 and predicts it will spurt when plants starting construction during Rhodes' economic expansion program get into production.

Others point out that Ohio's unemployment rate currently is well under the national average and assert that new job figures based on a 10-year average fail to reflect the true job gain during Rhodes' administration.

On the issue of taxes, King and Sweeney virtually agree that new levies are not needed at this time.

Both express concern over the future burden of paying off more than $1 billion in bond issues for highways and capital improvements approved by Ohio voters at Rhodes' urging.

But administration spokesmen profess to see no problems in full repayment.

They point out that an earmarked cent-a-gallon gasoline tax and a highway use tax on big trucks now yield more than enough for the new $500 million road bond issue of 1964. The new $250 million improvements bond issue of 1963 is being retired by a cent-a-pack cigarette tax and general revenues are pledged for the retirement of the $290 million development issue approved last May.

Hines Is Named Manager Of GE Plant in Cleveland

Phillip T. Hines, 140 Reber Ave., has been promoted to the position of plant manager of General Electric's Cleveland Lamp plant in Cleveland.

This announcement was made today by E. G. Grigg, plant manager of the local

PHILLIP T. HINES
General Electric plant where Hines is presently employed as supervisor of manufacturing engineering. Hines will assume his new duties Feb. 1.

The replacement for Hines has not yet been named, Grigg said.

Hines joined GE in 1950 as a member of the company's test program. While on this program he held training assignments at Circleville Lamp plant and the Aircraft Nuclear Propulsion Department, Cincinnati.

HE RETURNED to Circleville on a regular assignment in 1953 and held positions of quality engineer, manufacturing engineer and supervisor of quality control engineering.

In May of 1962 Hines was promoted to the position of fluorescent quality control specialist in the Large Lamp Department manufacturing section at Nela Park in Cleveland. He returned to his present position at Circleville on Sept. 1, 1964.

A native of Elmwood Place, O., Hines was graduated from the University of Notre Dame with a bachelor degree in mechanical engineering. He is a World War II veteran.

Hines is a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Circleville and serves there as an elder and member of the Christian Education Committee.

He holds a membership in the Society of Professional Engineers and has served as vice president of the Southern Ohio Chapter.

Hines and his wife, Gloria, have three children. They will move to Cleveland after housing arrangements are complete.

ALL ROADS LEAD ALMOST TO DOWNTOWN ROME—Here is how Rome's 10-day traffic experiment is working, or not working. A 35-block area in the heart of the city has been barred for passenger vehicles, save for buses and taxis, which leaves downtown streets like the Via Condotti (upper) nicely empty, but causes frustrating traffic jams on the edge of the 35-block area, like the clogged Via Della Mercede (lower). Merchants object to arrangement. (Cablephotos)

Clinton Base Eyed as New Ohio Jetport

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—U. S. Rep. Clarence Brown Jr., Ohio's newest congressman, says he has his Washington staff investigating the possibilities of a site in his 7th District as a future commercial jetport.

The site: Clinton County Air Force Base.

Interviewed here, Brown declared himself in favor of the much-discussed Dayton-Cincinnati regional airport and said the base at Wilmington would be the ideal location—serving Columbus as well as the southwest Ohio area.

He said that with the new interstate highways, the location is only an hour from downtown Columbus, and less than an hour from downtown Dayton and Cincinnati.

The Republican congressman noted that the military installation is being phased out, at least partially, as part of the Defense Department's latest economy measures.

Brown said he couldn't say Clinton County AFB no longer is needed for military purposes but that if such were the case it should be considered for regional commercial airport use.

Backers of the controversial regional airport plan hope to have one in operation by the time supersonic jets are in regular commercial passenger service.

Kennan Is Appointed To Harvard Position

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Harvard University has announced the appointment of George F. Kennan, diplomat and historian, as a university fellow in history and Slavic civilizations.

President Nathan M. Pusey said Kennan will be able to participate in seminars and give occasional lectures at Harvard while continuing his professorship at the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, N.J. Kennan has served as U.S. ambassador in Moscow and Beijing.

TODAY In History

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 4, the fourth day of 1966. There are 361 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1896, Utah was admitted to the Union as the 45th state.

On this date in 1790, George Washington issued the first annual presidential message.

In 1838, the famous midjet, Tom Thumb, was born in Bridgeport, Conn.

In 1921, the Rockefeller Foundation announced that yellow fever had been wiped out in Ecuador.

In 1936, the Nazis ordered military training for children in Germany.

In 1946, Gen. Douglas MacArthur invited 39 leading American educators to help set up a democratic school system in Japan.

Ten years ago — The first train on the new railroad between Peking and Moscow left Peking.

Five years ago — U.S. government expressed hope that the break in diplomatic relations with Cuba will spur the Organization of American States to take action soon to quarantine the regime of Premier Fidel Castro.

One year ago — President Johnson — in his State of the Union message — issued an invitation to the Soviet Union's new leaders to visit the United States.

Ripley Weed Sales Resume after Holiday

5 Ohio GIs, Kin Vacation In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—Five Americans fighting in Viet Nam began a four-day holiday in Hong Kong Monday with members of their families.

The five, all from the Cleveland, Ohio, area, are Lt. William Allen, Lance Cpl. Andrew Harry Kappenhagen, and Pfc. David Smith, Charles Smith and James Yonker.

The Smith brothers were met here by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Smith; Lt. Allen by his wife; Kappenhagen by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kappenhagen, and Yonker by his father, Robert Yonker.

The families were flown here for the reunion sponsored by the Cleveland Press.

The servicemen were chosen by lot from a list of Cleveland men who were eligible for a rest and relaxation trip to Hong Kong. Such "R and R" trips out of Viet Nam to Hong Kong, Bangkok, Manila and Taipei are normal procedures for men fighting in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Smith, tears in her eyes, kissed and hugged her two sons alternately and said, "This is wonderful. I will never forget this."

"I don't know whether this is a dream or a reality," said Mrs. Allen as she embraced her husband.

Most of the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. King were with them during the holidays. Present on Christmas Day were their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King and children Victor, Bryan and Delvin of Chillicothe; another son and wife Mr. and Mrs. Jerry King and children Patty, Becky, Wilmer, and Jerry Lee of Clarksburg; and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mowbray of Columbus. The Mowbrays remained overnight and Sunday.

Mrs. Willard Yapple visited with her son, Ralph, and his wife and son, in Columbus at Christmas. Her daughter, Mrs. James Leist came Tuesday to see her mother, and returned to Dayton Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Leist, who live in St. Petersburg Beach, Fla. spent Christmas with their sons, Jim and Tom and their families in Dayton. Mrs. Leist returned to her home in Florida on Friday.

Mrs. Leland Yapple of Hallsville entertained Mrs. Willard Yapple and Mrs. Leist to dinner Wednesday at Pickaway Arms.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Janes and children arrived Wednesday before Christmas to visit their grandmother, Mrs. Effie Norman of Hallsville and Mrs. Janes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Williams, and Becky in Kingston. The Janes family returned to their home in Denver, Colo., on Wednesday.

Christmas Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Courtright and son Guy Jr. at their home north of Kingston were Mrs. Courtright's father, Mrs. James Hoffines, her brother, Mr. Samuel Hoffines, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Stauffer of Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Davis held their annual Christmas

Eve buffet supper for the family and friends. Present were Mrs. John Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis and sons; Mr. and Mrs. Winston Hood from Mt. Vernon, Miss.; Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lightner, Mrs. Lois Jones and Miss Margaret Thomas.

Mr. John Davis, who is in Florida, talked to the family by phone in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jattinson left on Wednesday before Christmas to spend two weeks at Orlando Beach, Florida.

Christmas guests of Mrs. F. B. Mowery and son, Lloyd, were her son-in-law and daughter, Attorney and Mrs. Brown Pettit and son, Mike, from Lima. They arrived on Friday and remained through Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graves, County Line Road, had as their holiday guests their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Becker from New York City. Their daughter, Sydney, is a teacher in Junior high school there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sunderland were in Hamilton Sunday for a Christmas dinner with their daughter, Mrs. Dan Trueman, Mr. Trueman and their five grandchildren. Two of the grandchildren, Donna and Kendall, came back with them on Monday and were taken home by the grandparents on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Reed of Harbor Hills visited Miss Ora Rittour several days the past week. On Christmas Day, the three of them went to Delaware to spend the day with their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfe and daughters.

Jerry Patrick, a senior at Ohio State University, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dane Patrick. Jerry was in Brazil with the Peace Corps the past two Christmases, so this was a real celebration. His father, Mr. Dane Patrick, who has been in Florida for his health, returned home for the weekend. On Christmas Day, they were guests of Mrs. Patrick's sister, Mrs. Joe Downs, Mr. Downs and their children at Orient. Jerry's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Patrick, were also among the guests of the Downs family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lemley and daughter, Joann, spent Christmas Day with Mr. and Mrs. David Lemley and daughters at Circleville.

The Rhoades family had their Christmas dinner on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Locke and children were here from Canton; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rhoades and children from Chillicothe; and Mr. and Mrs. William Rhoades and children from near Kingston.

The Locke family remained overnight and Monday.

Mr. Jacob (Bill) Maxwell who has been in Grant Hospital several weeks following serious injury in an automobile accident, has been discharged to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harper and Miss Loretta Dresbach spent Christmas Day with the Harpers' daughter, Mrs. Ronald Eldridge, Mr. Eldridge and their two daughters, Kathy and Karen, in Circleville.

Mrs. Pearl Patrick visited Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stealy in Circleville.

The Davis family all enjoyed breakfast together on Christmas morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis. In addition to the host and hostess and their three sons, John, Dan, and Tom, were Mrs. John Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Davis, Jim and Kristi.

Mrs. John Davis was also a dinner guest at the Raymond Davises.

Farm Product Prices Climb 11 Pct. in '65

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm product prices closed the year 11 per cent higher than at the beginning. Much of the boost is attributed to recent advances in markets for meat animals.

An Agriculture Department report showed today that farm product prices as a whole made an unusually large rise of 4 per cent between mid-November and mid-December.

Insofar as farm buying power was concerned, the higher returns received for agricultural commodities were offset in part of an increase during the year of 3.5 per cent in the cost of goods and services used by farmers in production and in family living.

The prevailing farm price level at the end of 1965 was the most favorable since the mid-1950s.

Reflecting the uptrend in farm markets, agricultural prices ended the year at 80 per cent of the parity price goal of federal farm programs. A year ago it was 75 per cent.

The most spectacular advances during the year included hogs, up from $14.80 a hundred pounds at the end of 1964 compared with $26.80 at the end of 1965; beef cattle, up from $17.40 to $23.30; butterfat, up from 59.8 cents a pound to 62.4 cents; lambs, up from $19.20 to $24.10; limes, up from $3.90 a box to $10.70; dry beans, up from $7.93 a hundredweight to $9.16; eggs, up from 33 cents a dozen to 40.9 cents; and pears up from $2.42 a bushel to $3.22.

Products which lost ground included potatoes, cotton, hay, most feed grains; sweet potatoes and soybeans.

Prices reached by hogs in December were the highest since 1948. Short supplies of slaughter animals was the major factor.

TODAY In History

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 4, the fourth day of 1966. There are 361 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1896, Utah was admitted to the Union as the 45th state.

On this date in 1790, George Washington issued the first annual presidential message.

In 1838, the famous midget, Tom Thumb, was born in Bridgeport, Conn.

In 1921, the Rockefeller Foundation announced that yellow fever had been wiped out in Ecuador.

In 1936, the Nazis ordered military training for children in Germany.

In 1946, Gen. Douglas MacArthur invited 39 leading American educators to help set up a democratic school system in Japan.

Ten years ago — The first train on the new railroad between Peking and Moscow left Peking.

Five years ago—U.S. government expressed hope that the break in diplomatic relations with Cuba will spur the Organization of American States to take action soon to quarantine the regime of Premier Fidel Castro.

One year ago — President Johnson — in his State of the Union message—issued an invitation to the Soviet Union's new leaders to visit the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harper and Miss Loretta Dresbach spent Christmas Day with the Harpers' daughter, Mrs. Ronald Eldridge, Mr. Eldridge and their two daughters, Kathy and Karen, in Circleville.

Mrs. Pearl Patrick visited Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stealy in Circleville.

Ohio Dems Taking Look at GOP Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Political maneuvering in advance of Ohio's 66 election campaigns indicates the Democrats will take long, searching looks at GOP prosperity and new jobs claims.

Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes makes it clear that he regards "more jobs without more taxes" as the keystone in his anticipated bid for re-election to a four-year term.

And leading Democratic gubernatorial prospects indicate that they also look upon those issues as major.

5 Ohio GIs, Kin Vacation In Hong Kong

The five, all from the Cleveland, Ohio, area, are Lt. William Allen, Lance Cpl. Andrew Harry Kappenhagen, and Pfc. David Smith, Charles Smith and James Yonker.

The Smith brothers were met here by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Smith; Lt. Allen by his wife; Kappenhagen by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kappenhagen, and Yonker by his father, Robert Yonker.

The families were flown here for the reunion sponsored by the Cleveland Press.

The servicemen were chosen by lot from a list of Cleveland men who were eligible for a rest and relaxation trip to Hong Kong. Such "R and R" trips out of Viet Nam to Hong Kong, Bangkok, Manila and Taipei are normal procedures for men fighting in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Smith, tears in her eyes, kissed and hugged her two sons alternately and said, "This is wonderful. I will never forget this."

"I don't know whether this is a dream or a reality," said Mrs. Allen as she embraced her husband.

gram he held training assignments at Circleville Lamp plant and the Aircraft Nuclear Propulsion Department, Cincinnati.

... HE RETURNED to Circleville on a regular assignment in 1953 and held positions of quality engineer, manufacturing engineer and supervisor of quality control engineering.

In May of 1962 Hines was promoted to the position of fluorescent quality control specialist in the Large Lamp Department manufacturing section at Nela Park in Cleveland. He returned to his present position at Circleville on Sept. 1, 1964.

A native of Elmwood Place, O., Hines was graduated from the University of Notre Dame with a bachelor degree in mechanical engineering. He is a World War II veteran.

Hines is a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Circleville and serves there as an elder and member of the Christian Education Committee.

He holds a membership in the Society of Professional Engineers and has served as vice president of the Southern Ohio Chapter.

Hines and his wife, Gloria, have three children. They will move to Cleveland after housing arrangements are complete.

average during that period of business prosperity, which he attributes to the tax cut policies of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

And Congressman - at - large Robert F. Sweeney of Cleveland says he has figures to show that Rhodes' new jobs claims are phony.

Rhodes sticks to his policy of silence under such attacks but some of his cabinet members are less reticent.

Development Director Fred Neuenchwander recalls that detractors scoffed at Rhodes' early goal of 200,000 more Ohio jobs through industrial expansion.

He says the new job total now exceeds 222,000 and predicts it will spurt when plants starting construction during Rhodes' economic expansion program get into production.

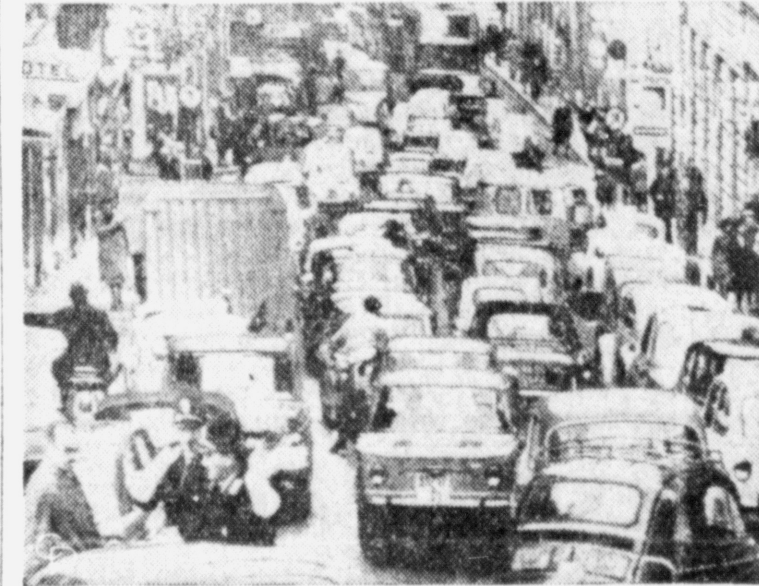

Others point out that Ohio's unemployment rate currently is well under the national average and assert that new job figures based on a 10-year average fail to reflect the true job gain during Rhodes' administration.

On the issue of taxes, King and Sweeney virtually agree that new levies are not needed at this time.

Both express concern over the future burden of paying off more than $1 billion in bond issues for highways and capital improvements approved by Ohio voters at Rhodes' urging.

But administration spokesmen profess to see no problems in full repayment.

They point out that an earmarked cent-a-gallon gasoline tax and a highway use tax on big trucks now yield more than enough for the new $500 million road bond issue of 1964. The new $250 million improvements bond issue of 1963 is being retired by a cent-a-pack cigarette tax and general revenues are pledged for the retirement of the $200 million development issue approved last May.

ALL ROADS LEAD ALMOST TO DOWNTOWN ROME—Here is how Rome's 10-day traffic experiment is working, or not working. A 35-block area in the heart of the city has been barred for passenger vehicles, save for buses and taxis, which leaves downtown streets like the Via Condotti (upper) nicely empty, but causes frustrating traffic jams on the edge of the 35-block area, like the clogged Via Della Mercedes (lower). Clinton Base Eyed as New Ohio Jetport

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—U. S. Rep. Clarence Brown Jr., Ohio's newest congressman, says he has his Washington staff investigating the possibilities of a site in his 7th District as a future commercial jetport.

The site: Clinton County Air Force Base.

Interviewed here, Brown declared himself in favor of the much-discussed Dayton-Cincinnati regional airport and said the base at Wilmington would be the ideal location—serving Columbus as well as the southwest Ohio area.

He said that with the new interstate highways, the location is only an hour from downtown Columbus, and less than an hour from downtown Dayton and Cincinnati.

The Republican congressman noted that the military installation is being phased out, at least partially, as part of the Defense Department's latest economy measures.

Brown said he couldn't say Clinton County AFB no longer is needed for military purposes but that if such were the case it should be considered for regional commercial airport use.

Backers of the controversial regional airport plan hope to have one in operation by the time supersonic jets are in regular commercial passenger service.

Reaction Not Enough

Everyone is familiar with the suggestion that, if aid in one form or another is not forthcoming from Uncle Sam, this or that people would—as the saying is—go communist. Of course, the U. S. must continue to help its friends of the free world. But there is a basic point which must never be overlooked. It is this:

This country should not permit itself to be blackmailed. Its policy should be consistent, enlightened and realistic.

Don't Throw Bricks in 1966

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't throw bricks in '66. As best we can make it out, 1966 will be a poor year in which to rock the boat — and a good one in which to learn the art of walking on eggs.

The road signs say, "Go slow" and "Sharp curves ahead."

Economically speaking, the world outlook is mixed. This means that in most countries the rich will get more money and the poor will get more promises.

On the international front these possibilities cannot be overlooked:

Charles de Gaulle of France will offer to go to China to launch a worldwide peace offensive. The NATO nations will immediately offer him a rowboat in which to make the journey.

Moscow will claim new evidence to prove that the swivel chair, paper clip and bubble gum were originally invented by

There should be firm decisions on what countries need aid, which can use it effectively and in the best interest of freedom, both economic and political. Aid should not be extended merely because the Russians have made offers and the local "wheel" says petulantly, "Well, if you don't help us, we'll take the Kremlin's money."

U. S. policy must not continue to be based merely on reaction to communist moves.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain will announce to a startled Parliament that an elderly baronet on a bird-watching trip to Wales has sighted a grossbilled twitwhatch, a species believed extinct. Later, in an emergency apology broadcast over BBC, he will declare that fuller investigation has disclosed the bird in question was actually a gross-tittled hatch-bill, a bird of quite a different feather.

The man in the moon will appear to the United Nations for relief, asserting that the noise level of rocket-firing space craft are threatening to make his life unendurable.

Ancient Viet Revolutionary Seen Peace Key

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The key to success or failure of Viet Nam peace bids may rest in the fragile hands of an ancient revolutionary caught in the titanic struggle for power between the world's two Communist giants.

Ho Chi Minh at 75 has had half a century of tumultuous activity in the cause of international communism as a tactician of revolution. Today "Uncle Ho," as president of North Viet Nam, confronts a situation that may seem insoluble.

As an internationalist, Ho probably is inclined to follow Moscow's lead. That might mean making the best of a dangerous situation and waiting patiently for a better opportunity.

But Ho has a huge neighbor on his northern frontier: Red China. Legendary though he may be as the architect of revolution in the Orient, Ho seems captive of a majority faction of his own politburo which follows Peking's lead.

The paradoxical Ho, a poetic, mandarin-like figure who, despite his violent career always seemed a believer in the easiest and least bloody way to power, appears to be boxed in.

The pro-Chinese faction in Hanoi is headed by Truong Chinh, chairman of the North Viet Nam National Assembly. Truong Chinh's name means "long march." His original name was Dang Xuan Khu, but he changed it after taking part in the historic march of Mao's forces in the Communist war for domination of the China mainland.

The pro-Chinese faction evidently took over in Hanoi last April in a sudden shakeup of the North Vietnamese Communist hierarchy. The dominant faction evidently subscribes to the Chinese formula of violent "people's war" as the only effective road to world communism.

From time to time there had been evidence that Ho was willing to listen to some sort of formula to end the bloodletting.

Viet Nam faces the dubious choice of progressive destruction from U. S. bombing or massive influx of Chinese who could forever kill off any trace of Vietnamese independence.

But Ho does not appear to be a free agent. His current statements reflect the granite-hard line. They also reflect the Soviet-Chinese struggle.

Moscow is sending the No. 2 man of the Soviet Communist party, Alexander N. Shelepin, to Hanoi. His mission undoubtedly is to make Soviet influence paramount. If he is successful that could lead eventually to

Ready for the Plunge

Ronald Reagan has promised to give his answer, yes or no, this afternoon on the question of running for Governor of California, and, since nobody has ever tied up fourteen TV stations in advance for a half hour to say "no," we can assume that a momentous race is on. What happens in California will tell a lot more than the Lindsay victory in New York about the future of the Republican Party, so the fight could be intense, even though it is not in Mr. Reagan's affable character to make it vicious.

Reagan's opportunity is a primary candidate's dream, but it creates a nightmare for any prognosticator who wants to look beyond the primary to the main show. Insofar as the primary itself is concerned, the battle at the moment seems to be between Reagan, who lives in the Los Angeles area and responds to the name of conservative, and George Christopher, the Greek - born former Mayor of San Francisco, who is billed as a moderate. The contrasts impart both ideological and geographical overtones to the confrontation. If you go by population, this gives Mr. Reagan a big edge. He has a sizeable edge over Mr. Christopher if you go by philosophy, for the California Republican Party, as such, contains more conservatives than liberals.

Putting geography and ideology together, it is easy to see why Reagan is two-to-one to beat Christopher in the primary. But when it comes to taking on the Democratic incumbent, Governor Pat Brown, Christopher, following the line exploited by U. S. Senator Tom Kuchel, insists that it would be safer for his party to put up a moderate such as himself for the job. Christopher cites recent polls to sustain his point.

The attempt to tick Reagan off as a Far Out character, however, could very well encounter heavy going in a state that has been torn to pieces by extremists in Berkeley and in Watts. Extremism is a matter of both manner and content, and Reagan, who comes through as a nice mixture of earnestness, humor and affability wherever he speaks, whether it is on his TV show or in a big political gathering, has the moderate's manner. As for the content of his thinking, he is learning to avoid the chronic negativism of the professional rightist, and he has been going around the State offering voluntary alternatives to the compulsory welfareism that offends conservatives and makes even a few liberals uneasy. Significantly, he has been picking up support from former Nelson Rockefeller men and from adherents of ex-Governor Goodie Knight. He also has Walt Disney in his corner, which never hurt anyone.

Assuming that he says "yes" over those fourteen TV stations and goes on to win the primary Reagan may find himself in the middle of a strange situation in which the extremist types have deserted both himself and his Democratic opponent. In a little - noticed statement made before he left for North Vietnam to hobnob with Ho Chi Minh, the Yale professor, Staughton Lynd, a leading spirit in the "New Left," said the most fruitful course of action for radicals would be to run independent political candidates. And given the deputy of feeling on the anti-Vietnam War Left (the Simon Casady adherents in the California Democratic Council are cases in point), nobody knows what deserts from the ranks of Governor Pat Brown (or Mayor Sam Yorty, if he should be the Democratic nominee) may be lurking over the horizon. If the Asian war continues, the California Democrats could be in more trouble with their extremists than Reagan will encounter from John Birchers whom he has offended by disagreeing with the statements of Robert Welch.

Reagan has been a "liberal" himself (he once supported Helen Gahagan Douglas against Dick Nixon), but he took alarm at the depths of liberal gullibility in the days when the Communists were making their big pitch for Hollywood domination. A former president of the Screen Actors Guild, Reagan learned about politics in a rough school during the era in which the House Committee on Un-American Activities was investigating Hollywood. Like Senator George Murphy, Reagan can say he has been as much a labor leader as actor. The combination surely worked for Murphy.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My aunt is an alcoholic. Her husband does not drink but he does not help her to stop. I am their only relative. I am beginning to believe that her alcoholism is caused by his "holier than thou" attitude and his constant anger, as well as his deliberate lack of understanding.

How can I help a lovely woman find the dignity and creativity she once possessed?

Mrs. C. V., New York

Dear Mrs. V.: Your sympathetic understanding of a problem shows maturity. It is gratifying to know that you recognize that there is no shame in being an alcoholic.

You are most astute in your observation of your uncle and his problems. The total family relationship must be considered if the eventual control of an alcoholic is to be effective. The spouse of the alcoholic often needs as much direction as the alcoholic.

Sometimes, of course, members of an alcoholic's family are the innocent victims of this dreadful illness. And alcoholism is as distinctly an illness as is heart disease.

As an illness it must be treated with drugs, with psychological support and with spiritual and religious guidance.

Antabuse is a drug that has been effective in controlling the cravings of some alcoholics. The drug is taken as a pill every day. When the pill is swallowed even a single drink of alcohol causes the alcoholic such discomfort that he is discouraged from trying it again.

Dr. Ruth Fox of New York City, a specialist in the understanding and treatment of the alcoholic, emphasizes that all other forms of treatment must be tried to control and rehabilitate the alcoholic.

Dr. Fox, using psychiatric support, hypnosis and the experimental drug LSD, came to an important conclusion. She states "since alcoholism is a complex illness with sociological, psychological and physical components, no one form of treatment is suitable in all cases."

Your aunt and uncle can with your guidance, be persuaded to seek help through membership in Alcoholics Anonymous, one of the most effective treatment methods.

Dr. Fox, after using every approach to the alcoholic, says "the greatest treatment success is A. A." With its thousands of chapters and its 300,000 recovered alcoholics, it has undoubtedly reached more cases than all the other cures together. For patients who will accept it, AA may be the only form of therapy needed.

Your aunt is caught in a devastating trap, as are thousands of others. There must be regret that human beings are wastes because they cannot be persuaded that the disease is controllable.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — What actions of the government can foster inflation? What can the government do to halt or moderate a general rise in prices and loss of purchasing power by the dollar?

The cost of the Viet Nam War — how much money the government will pump into the economy through military spending — will play a big part in answering these questions.

A big Treasury deficit could have more effect on the course of inflation than isolated instances of price rises, such as Bethlehem Steel's $5 a ton boost in structural steel prices.

So right now, the talk about inflation centers most of all on what the new federal budget will hold. Will it be bigger spending, tax changes, a growing Treasury deficit? The new budget could do a lot to an expanding economy already pushing against the ceilings of production capacity and available skilled labor.

A budget deficit always can be a stimulant, mild or strong depending upon circumstances, to the economy. Some fear that a big Treasury deficit now might turn an expanding economy into an inflation-minded boom, with prices getting out of hand and wage demands skyrocketing.

Another tax cut, as once hoped for in 1965 would give both the economy and the federal deficit a big boost — at the risk of triggering a boom and bust.

Increased taxes could hold down the size of the expected deficit and curb the threat of monetary inflation. But some fear that tax hikes also could halt economic growth and might even lead to a recession.

Holding down government spending, whether for the military or the growing demands of the "Great Society" programs, could keep the Treasury deficit in line and slow the rising national debt. But here too, the risk is in halting the economic expansion that otherwise would soon be entering its sixth year.

If the fears of a minority of economists are realized and inflation really gets going, what are the ways to stop it?

Some old-school economists still favor what they call national correction. This says that inflation will take care of itself if the government doesn't tinker with the money supply. When prices get too high, demand dries up and employment drops. When wages get too high it is unprofitable to hire more men. So prices and wages get back into line.

At the other extreme are those who plug for direct wage and price controls. These are unpopular and unlikely short of all-out war conditions.

Then there are fringe controls. Curbs can be put on credit so that it's hard to find money to finance speculative ventures.

PROFESSOR PRIEST, of old Virginy, recalls an impetuous acquaintance who decided that a gentleman on a crowded bus had failed to show proper alacrity in yielding his seat to a pretty miss, pushed him angrily through a closed window, and then took a couple of shots at the terrified stranger as he fled into a side street.

Hauled into court, this noble protector of womanhood admitted to the judge that he had imbibed "eight or nine whiskey sours" before boarding the bus himself. The judge seemed inclined to be lenient. "If I let you go," he proposed, "will you promise to cause no more trouble and go straight home?" "Suttinly not," was the indignant reply. "You have already made me late, suh, for mah temperance lecture at the First Methodist Church."

During the first intermission of an outdoor performance of "Othello," Sir Laurence Olivier was stopped at the door to his portable dressing room by a distressed lady who wanted directions to the New Haven bound bus. "But why," asked Sir Laurence, "aren't you staying for the remainder of the performance?" "Frankly," explained the lady, "I saw it years ago in Brooklyn in Yiddish—and it hurts me to see what it loses in translation."

Reaction Not Enough

Everyone is familiar with the suggestion that, if aid in one form or another is not forthcoming from Uncle Sam, this or that people would—as the saying is—go communist. Of course, the U. S. must continue to help its friends of the free world. But there is a basic point which must never be overlooked. It is this:

This country should not permit itself to be blackmailed. Its policy should be consistent, enlightened and realistic.

There should be firm decisions on what countries need aid, which can use it effectively and in the best interest of freedom, both economic and political. Aid should not be extended merely because the Russians have made offers and the local "wheel" says petulantly, "Well, if you don't help us, we'll take the Kremlin's money."

U. S. policy must not continue to be based merely on reaction to communist moves.

Don't Throw Bricks in 1966

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't throw bricks in '66. As best we can make it out, 1966 will be a poor year in which to rock the boat — and a good one in which to learn the art of walking on eggs.

The road signs say, "Go slow" and "Sharp curves ahead."

Economically speaking, the world outlook is mixed. This means that in most countries the rich will get more money and the poor will get more promises.

On the international front these possibilities cannot be overlooked.

Charles de Gaulle of France will offer to go to China to launch a worldwide peace offensive. The NATO nations will immediately offer him a rowboat in which to make the journey.

Moscow will claim new evidence to prove that the swivel chair, paper clip and bubble gum were originally invented by 18th century Russian scientists working in Minsk, Pinsk and Omsk.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain will announce to a startled Parliament that an elderly baronet on a bird-watching trip to Wales has sighted a grossbilled twitwhatch, a species believed extinct. Later, in an emergency apology broadcast over BBC, he will declare that fuller investigation has disclosed the bird in question was actually a grossbilled twitwhatch, a bird of quite a different feather.

The man in the moon will appeal to the United Nations for relief, asserting that the noise level of rocket-firing space craft are threatening to make his life unendurable.

In a peace move in the war over highway beautification, the billboard people will offer Lady Bird a post as their industry arbiter.

President Johnson will sign an executive order granting Vice President Humphrey an airlines credit card good for trips anywhere in the world. He will use 102 pens — a record — in signing the order.

In other fields look for:

Education — Harvard will award an honorary degree to Cassius Clay "for inestimable contributions to the English language."

Sports — Some pro football team will sign a college quarterback for $50 a week plus room and board but insist that he pay for his own laundry.

Medicine — A new wonder pill will be developed that won't cure you of anything but will make the payment of doctor bills less painful. The American Medical Association will oppose it as another step to socialized medicine.

All in all, 1966 promises to be a busy, exciting year full of thrills. Just take it easy — and don't cross the streets in the middle of the block — and you may make it safely to 1967.

Ancient Viet Revolutionary Seen Peace Key

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The key to success or failure of Viet Nam peace bids may rest in the fragile hands of an ancient revolutionary caught in the titanic struggle for power between the world's two Communist giants.

Ho Chi Minh at 75 has had half a century of unmitigated activity in the cause of international communism as a tactician of revolution. Today "Uncle Ho," as president of North Viet Nam, confronts a situation that may seem insoluble.

As an internationalist, Ho probably is inclined to follow Moscow's lead. That might mean making the best of a dangerous situation and waiting patiently for a better opportunity.

But Ho has a huge neighbor on his northern frontier: Red China. Legendary though he may be as the architect of revolution in the Orient, Ho seems captive of the majority faction of his own politburo which follows Peking's lead.

The paradoxical Ho, a poetic, mandarin-like figure who, despite his violent career always seemed a believer in the easiest and least bloody way to power, appears to be boxed in.

The pro-Chinese faction in Hanoi is headed by Truong Chinh, chairman of the North Viet Nam National Assembly. Truong Chinh's name means "long march." His original name was Dang Xuan Khu, but he changed it after taking part in the historic march of Mao's forces in the Communist war for domination of the China mainland.

The pro-Chinese faction evidently took over in Hanoi last April in a sudden shakeup of the North Vietnamese Communist hierarchy. The dominant faction evidently subscribes to the Chinese formula of violent "people's war" as the only effective road to world communism.

From time to time there had been evidence that Ho was willing to listen to some sort of formula to end the bloodletting.

Viet Nam faces the dubious choice of progressive destruction from U. S. bombing or massive influx of Chinese who could forever kill off any trace of Vietnamese independence.

But Ho does not appear to be a free agent. His current statements reflect the granite-hard line. They also reflect the Soviet-Chinese struggle.

Moscow is sending the No. 2 man of the Soviet Communist party, Alexander N. Shelepin, to Hanoi. His mission undoubtedly is to make Soviet influence paramount. If he is successful that could lead eventually to some sort of accommodation with the United States, since the U.S.S.R. must regard the Southeast Asia situation as highly dangerous and certainly as one which stands in the way of a Soviet ambition to build up the U.S.S.R.'s internal economy.

The Soviet thrust will not go uncontested. Red China attacks Moscow with renewed fury. The official newspaper People's Daily accuses the Russians of "behind-scenes bargaining" with the Americans on Viet Nam.

Peking has suffered serious diplomatic and political reverses in 1965. It makes clear it wants the war in Viet Nam to continue. The war offers a prospect of bleeding and weakening the United States, and it has become a club with which Peking can attempt to beat the Russians out of the camp of militant revolutionaries.

Evidently content with a longer-range view of revolution which might be less dangerous to Soviet security, the Russians are promising North Viet Nam massive economic, technical and military aid which the Chinese cannot match.

As of this moment, the pro-Chinese faction apparently remains in control in Hanoi, and seems to have dominant influence over the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front. It broadcasts that its position on negotiations is "firmer than ever" because "we are stronger than ever."

The world danger in Southeast Asia is obvious, especially to a Soviet regime which could be drawn into it and into a confrontation with the Americans.

The Russians will concentrate attention on March 29, the opening of the 23rd Soviet Communist Party Congress. There, the Soviet leadership is expected to reaffirm practically every policy developed since 1956. When this happens, the break with China will be just about unbridgeable. The Russians hope to have the North Viet Nam party and most others of importance on their side in the world Communist dispute.

Then the ancient who is the father figure of revolution in the Orient, Ho Chi Minh, may be better able to come forward with some sort of offer when with some sort of offer which could end the Viet Nam shooting.

The American flag of 1777 was not changed until 1795 when Vermont and Kentucky were admitted to the Union requiring 15 stripes and stars.

Ready for the Plunge

By John Chamberlain

Ronald Reagan has promised to give his answer, yes or no, this afternoon on the question of running for Governor of California, and, since nobody has ever tied up fourteen TV stations in advance for a half hour to say "no," we can assume that a momentous race is on. What happens in California will tell a lot more than the Lindsay victory in New York about the future of the Republican Party, so the fight could be intense, even though it is not in Mr. Reagan's affable character to make it vicious.

Reagan's opportunity is a primary candidate's dream, but it creates a nightmare for any prognosticator who wants to look beyond the primary to the main show. Insofar as the primary itself is concerned, the battle at the moment seems to be between Reagan, who lives in the Los Angeles area and responds to the name of conservative, and George Christopher, the Greek - born former Mayor of San Francisco, who is billed as a moderate. The contrasts impart both ideological and geographical overtones to the confrontation. If you go by population, this gives Mr. Reagan a big edge. He has a sizeable edge over Mr. Christopher if you go by philosophy, for the California Republican Party, as such, contains more conservatives than liberals.

Putting geography and ideology together, it is easy to see why Reagan is two-to-one to beat Christopher in the primary. But when it comes to taking on the Democratic incumbent, Governor Pat Brown, Christopher, following the line exploited by U. S. Senator Tom Kuchel, insists that it would be safer for his party to put up a moderate such as himself for the job. Christopher cites recent polls to sustain his point.

The attempt to tick Reagan off as a Far Out character, however, could very well encounter heavy going in a state that has been torn to pieces by extremists in Berkeley and in Watts. Extremism is a matter of both manner and content, and Reagan, who comes through as a nice mixture of earnestness, humor and affability wherever he speaks, whether it is on his TV show or in a political gathering, has the moderate's manner. As for the content of his thinking, he is learning to avoid the chronic negativism of the professional rightist, and he has been going around the State offering voluntary alternatives to the compulsory welfareism that offends conservatives and makes even a few liberals uneasy. Significantly, he has been picking up support from former Nelson Rockefeller men and from adherents of ex-Governor Goodie Knight. He also has Walt Disney in his corner, which never hurt anyone.

Assuming that he says "yes" over those fourteen TV stations and goes on to win the primary, Reagan may find himself in the middle of a strange situation in which the extremist types have deserted both him and his Democratic opponent. In a little - noticed statement made before he left for North Vietnam to hobnob with Ho Chi Minh, the Yale professor, Staughton Lynd, a leading spirit in the "New Left," said the most fruitful course of action for radicals would be to run independent political candidates. And given the deputy of feeling on the anti-Vietnam War Left (the Simon Casady adherents in the California Democratic Council are cases in point), nobody knows what deserts from the ranks of Governor Pat Brown (or Mayor Sam Yorty, if he should be the Democratic nominee) may be lurking over the horizon. If the Asian war continues, the California Democrats could be in more trouble with their extremists than Reagan will encounter from John Birchers whom he has offended by disagreeing with the statements of Robert Welch.

Reagan has been a "liberal" himself (he once supported Helen Gahagan Douglas against Dick Nixon), but he took alarm at the depths of liberal gullibility in the days when the Communists were making their big pitch for Hollywood domination. A former president of the Screen Actors Guild, Reagan learned about politics in a rough school during the era in which the House Committee on Un-American Activities was investigating Hollywood. Like Senator George Murphy, Reagan can say he has been as much a labor leader as actor. The combination surely worked for Murphy.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My aunt is an alcoholic. Her husband does not drink but he does not help her to stop. I am their only relative. I am beginning to believe that her alcoholism is caused by his "holier than thou" attitude and his constant anger, as well as his deliberate lack of understanding.

How can I help a lovely woman find the dignity and creativity she once possessed?

Mrs. C. V., New York
Dear Mrs. V.: Your sympathetic understanding of their problem shows maturity. It is gratifying to know that you recognize that there is no shame in being an alcoholic.

You are most astute in your observation of your uncle and his problems. The total family relationship must be considered if the eventual control of an alcoholic is to be effective. The spouse of the alcoholic often needs as much direction as the alcoholic.

Sometimes, of course, members of an alcoholic's family are the innocent victims of this dreadful illness. And alcoholism is as distinctly an illness as is heart disease.

As an illness it must be treated with drugs, with psychological support and with spiritual and religious guidance.

Antabuse is a drug that has been effective in controlling the cravings of some alcoholics. The drug is taken as a pill every day. When the pill is swallowed even a single drink of alcohol causes the alcoholic such discomfort that he is discouraged from trying it again.

Dr. Ruth Fox of New York City, a specialist in the understanding and treatment of the alcoholic, emphasizes that all other forms of treatment must be tried to control and rehabilitate the alcoholic.

Dr. Fox, using psychiatric support, hypnosis and the experimental drug LSD, came to an important conclusion. She states "since alcoholism is a complex illness with sociological, psychological and physical components, no one form of treatment is suitable in all cases."

Your aunt and uncle can with your guidance, be persuaded to seek help through membership in Alcoholics Anonymous, one of the most effective treatments.

Dr. Fox, after using every approach to the alcoholic, says "the greatest treatment success is A. A." With its thousands of chapters and its 300,000 recovered alcoholics, it has undoubtedly reached more cases than all the other cures together. For patients who will accept it, AA may be the only form of therapy needed.

Your aunt is caught in a devastating trap, as are thousands of others. There must be regret that human beings are wastes because they cannot be persuaded that the disease is controllable.

Gls Enter Crucial Battle in Paddyfield

BAO TRAI, Viet Nam (AP) — The mud was deep and slimy. Men moved at a permanent crouch because of sniper bullets.

In seven hours, a whole battalion moved forward only 30 yards.

U.S. paratroopers were getting their first taste of the Mekong Delta.

"It's hell out there," said Staff Sgt. Richard Banks of Pensacola, Fla., as he lay wounded on a dry patch of ground and waved toward the marshlands 50 feet away. He had been hit by grenade fragments.

"Yes, it's hell out there," he said, "but at least you can see the devil."

He meant the Viet Cong who had held up the battalion since dawn. Planes and artillery were blasting the guerrillas, but it was slow going.

"They're over there, in that clump of wild sugar cane and bamboo. And over there along that canal," said Lt. Col. George E. Dexter of Albuquerque, N.M.

Two of Dexter's companies were in heavy contact with the dug-in enemy and a third was moving up. By evening he was trying to decide whether to launch a night assault or whether to swing back in to the landing zone and hang tight for the night.

Whatever he did, trouble awaited him, because the Mekong Delta for 20 years has meant trouble.

During the Indochina war, the French kept the main roads open with a series of heavily fortified outposts and generally stayed out of the rest of the delta.

The French tried to clean out the Red River delta above Hanoi and failed. They didn't even try on the Mekong.

The South Vietnamese government has four infantry divisions — an estimated 20,000 men — in the Mekong Delta, most of them securing government installations. The Viet Cong have an estimated 30,000 men under arms in the area.

In the past year the Viet Cong

and government forces have maintained a sort of standoff in the delta.

Now the Americans have come into this battleground.

The paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade had known only jungle in Viet Nam — the jungles of Zone D, the Iron Triangle and Phuoc Tuy. The increasing momentum of the Viet Cong offensive brought them to the delta west of Saigon.

American units probably will soon be operating in Long An Province, south of Saigon, in the island provinces of Kien Hoa and Vinh Binh, and in the Camau Peninsula.

"Fighting here is a lot better than the jungle," said Sgt. Banks. "You can see where you are going and where you came from."

But the Viet Cong also can see, and they have detailed knowledge of every canal and every dike. Some of the bloodiest battles of the war have been fought in the delta. The paddy-field dikes and canals provide superb cover for the guerrillas.

Prices Going Up At Rapid Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Inflation is very much back in the news today. Prices are rising at the fastest rate in seven years.

As 1966 starts and a new federal budget is being hammered out, debate is growing over how best to deal with the chance of another onslaught of inflation undermining the purchasing power of the dollar.

Are there more taxes? Less government spending? Government guidelines or controls over wages and prices?

Here are definitions of inflation and kindred terms you'll be seeing in your newspapers more and more in the days ahead:

Inflation — A large and relatively sudden increase in the general price level, is what the public usually thinks of when it hears of inflation.

Classic Inflation — Traditional economists say that inflation really is caused by increases in the quantity of money over short or long periods, so that the money supply is large in comparison with the volume of goods and services offered. With lots of money consumers spend more and prices rise. In extreme cases, inflation results when the public loses confidence in the national currency and rushes to convert money into commodities.

Inflation and the New Economics — Current official monetary policy is to regard small or creeping inflation as harmless if controlled by government guidelines. The idea is to hold wage increases to the rate of gain in productivity — that is, more goods being produced in the same number of man hours of labor. Then prices needn't go up, and should be squeezed if industry tries it.

The theory is to keep the economy expanding through plentiful money and credit so as to furnish more goods and services to be bought by consumers with more money to spend — and at about the same price levels.

Hidden Inflation — This occurs when prices are held but the quality of a good or service is cut; or the size or content of a product is cut so that less value is offered for the same price. The size of candy bars has varied with the price of cocoa beans.

Wage-Price Spiral — The bad boy of the late 1950s. Large wage hikes were granted because the cost of living was rising. Then business raised its prices again because its labor costs of production had soared. The cost of living went up as a result, and so did new wage demands. This form of inflation was called cost-push.

Demand-Pull Inflation — This happened right after World War II. Consumers had money and lots of unfilled desires for goods and services that were in short supply. Consumers bid prices up to get scarce items.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There are two theories about mass daytime entertainment held by the major television networks. One, on which CBS develops its winning Nielsen ratings, calls for massive doses of soap opera laced with reruns of old evening comedy series.

The other prescription for housewives, staunchly maintained by NBC, involves a mixture of about eight parts game and panel shows to four parts daytime serials.

At any rate, from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. there is no time when there is neither a game show or a soap opera or both available on one of the three networks. And high daytime ratings are almost as vital to a network's fiscal health as are the evening numbers.

When one shot — game or dramatic — fails to attract a large enough audience, it quietly disappears and another, often similar enough to be its twin, takes its place. Thus last Friday, a short-lived NBC game show called "Fractured Phrases" was unobtrusively retired. A new audience participation game called "Eye Guess" took its place. It is hard to understand why they bothered to switch.

The new show is a dreary memory game. The old show was a dreary word game. "Eye Guess," however, is closely related to the show that follows it on the network, "Concentration," which has been perking along quietly for several years.

The object of "Concentration" is to match up words on a big board. The object of "Eye Guess" is to match up answers, glimpsed fleetingly on a big board, with questions propounded by the show's host, Bill Cullen.

By casual count, there are currently 10 game shows on the networks from midmorning until midafternoon and they occupy five hours of network time. There are 15 serials and because two of them occupy only 15 minutes each, they fill only six and one-half hours.

Add to this 10 reruns, from ancient "I Love Lucy" episodes on CBS to elderly "Father Knows Best" and "Gale Storm" repeats on ABC for another five or more hours, and the sum is a lot of time-killers.

As it was during the recent power blackout in the Northeast and in the nervous hours of the Los Angeles disturbances last summer, radio is proving a staunch and helpful companion during New York City's transit strike.

All local stations are providing full and fast information as they can gather it, plus instructions and advisories. Local television stations also are carrying bulletins — running headlines across programs in progress and interrupting when there is anything of importance to relay.

Art Linkletter's adaptation of "Talent Scouts" on CBS is a pleasant, low-key variety show and the talent is new to most viewers. But just to keep the title accurate, it would be reassuring if the celebrity scouts sounded as if they knew their performers. Pearl Bailey Monday night acted as if she had barely met her candidates for future fame.

Ohio Barber Examiners Under Fire

CLEVELAND (AP)—A civil suit asking Gov. James A. Rhodes to remove the three members of the State Board of Barber Examiners for alleged neglect of duty was filed here Monday by a Barbers Union local.

A hearing on the petition filed in Common Pleas Court is scheduled Jan. 25.

Filed on behalf of Local 129 of the Barbers Union and Barbers Guild No. 1, the suit asks for the dismissal of William A. Schmidt of Cleveland, Charles Dunbar Jr. of New Philadelphia and Vincent Hogue of Cincinnati.

The petition alleges nine instances of misfeasance, malfeasance, nonfeasance and "gross neglect of duty" involving the three men and barber inspector Carl Kelsik.

Among the charges are: —That the State Board harassed Cleveland Barber Robert Carter by frequently inspecting his shop.

—That they allowed the Hotel Sterling Barber Shop in downtown Cleveland and the Village Barber Shop in suburban Brook Park to be operated by apprentices who were not registered barbers.

—That Dunbar and Hogue promised an unidentified barber who had failed the state barber teacher's examination that he would pass the next time he took it.

Ohio Highway Slaughter Follows Deadly Pattern

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Highway safety officials found only grim repetitions today in the statistics of Ohio's worst New Year's traffic death toll.

Statistics from the New Year's weekend which claimed 46 lives in traffic accidents repeated the pattern of the bloody Christmas holiday period, when 50 died—and both showed deadly patterns repeated every day throughout the year.

Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson mapped a new plan to encourage use of seat belts, noting that the toll for the two holidays would have been cut about half had seat belts been in use on all the cars involved.

But the holiday figures told the same story: Most fatalities occur close to home, on city streets or state highways, during good weather.

"I pray for snow every holiday weekend during the winter," said Nelson, noting that the Ohio toll dropped sharply Sunday, when rain was general over the State.

Most drivers are more cautious when rain or other bad weather makes highways obviously dangerous, he said.

DiSalle's Role In Ohio Dem Politics Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Speculation over former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's prospects for a comeback bid mounted today in the wake of Democratic U. S. Rep. Robert E. Sweeney's announcement for Ohio attorney general.

Sweeney took himself out of consideration for the governor's race by saying that it would be inappropriate to inflict the rigors of such a campaign on his family while his wife, Patricia, was expecting their 12th child.

DiSalle, 18 times a grandfather and on the verge of 19, has no such inhibitions but says he has yet to make up his mind whether to go against incumbent GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes, who turned back DiSalle's re-election bid in 1962.

DiSalle, titular head of his party in Ohio, and Senate Democratic Leader Frank W. King prospects for governor.

King, who said he would run only if drafted, expects to disclose Thursday whether he will go for governor or re-election as senator. That is the date of a Democratic Candidates Committee meeting here to agree on a slate of party hopefuls to oppose GOP incumbents in state elective posts.

State Reps. A. G. Lancione of Bellaire and Harry H. McIlwaine of Cincinnati announced earlier for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination without generating much enthusiasm in the party organization.

DiSalle, who insists he has yet to make up his mind, says he considers Cleveland Council President James Stanton worth of consideration.

But the former governor continues to stand in the wings, apparently ready to bid for the statehouse again if the opportunity appears favorable.

"I'm not making any decision until the latter part of January," DiSalle insisted.

He is not a member of the Democratic Candidates Committee, headed by the party's State Chairman William L. Coleman, and said he will be out of town Thursday.

Sweeney told a news conference here that the Democratic party in Ohio shows more signs of unity than ever.

"That could be disastrous to the governor," he added in reference to Rhodes.

"I will campaign as effectively as I can against (Mark) McElroy," Sweeney said of his former boss. The congressman was a special assistant when McElroy was state attorney general.

"There are some very, very serious things wrong with the office of attorney general," Sweeney said of GOP Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe's performance. He said he referred to an "alarming" backlog of liquor cases and problems over retirement funds.

After serving four years as attorney general, McElroy lost the Democratic gubernatorial nomination by a narrow margin to DiSalle in the 1962 primary. He is now Cuyahoga County recorder.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even if President Johnson succeeds in his spectacular efforts to get Vietnamese peace talks started — and there is no sign he will — prospects for any meaningful settlement are dim.

His efforts, if unsuccessful, at least will do much to mute criticism here and abroad about his administration's willingness to seek a peaceful settlement and halt the killing.

But it is hard to see how there could be any final agreement between the United States and the North Vietnamese Communists without one side or the other backing down and admitting defeat, even without saying so.

Last April Johnson said he was willing to have "unconditional discussions" with the Reds but he also said he intended to keep this country's "promise" to the South Vietnamese to preserve their independence.

He said, in explaining that the "appetite for aggression is never satisfied," that "we will not withdraw either openly or under the cloak of meaningless agreement."

He added that "peace demands an independent Viet Nam."

But the Communist answer to that was: The United States must withdraw its forces from South Viet Nam and let the people of both Viet Nams settle their internal affairs themselves.

President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam has just repeated that position in the midst of Johnson's efforts of the past few days to get the Communists to a conference table.

If there should be agreement by the Communists now to discuss peace — or just to discuss ways to discuss peace — there might be a halt of some kind in the shooting for the time being.

But the anguished question is how could either side agree to a final settlement — in view of what each side has said its terms were — without retreating from the very conditions it said were necessary for peace?

If peace demands an independent South Viet Nam, as Johnson said, only a dreamer could imagine South Viet Nam remaining independent very long once American troops were withdrawn.

The Communists wouldn't have to invade from the north. Their arm, the Viet Cong, would still be in South Viet Nam, either under cover or in the open, ready to grab the South Viet Nam government when they could.

No one can reasonably say the Viet Cong would not already, and perhaps long ago, have seized all of Viet Nam if it had not been for the presence of American troops.

The South Vietnamese government was so incapable of defending itself the United States had to move into the war itself.

If the North Vietnamese agreed now that there could be a settlement without American withdrawal, they'd be backing down, since they have insisted there can be no withdrawal without the opposite happening.

The two sides have put themselves into such a box with their opposite statements and conditions that any real agreement is bound to look distant if not impossible any time soon.

Taft Plans To Campaign For Congress

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Former Congressman at Large Robert Taft Jr. announced Monday he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Ohio's 1st District congressional seat.

Taft's announcement came after months of speculation as to his political plans for 1966.

He has been out of office since he lost a race for U.S. Senator to Sen. Stephen Young in the 1964 Democratic landslide.

If nominated, Taft, whose late father was known as "Mr. Republican," probably would go against Democrat Rep. John J. Gilligan in the November election. Gilligan upset Republican Carl Rich in 1964. He already has announced for re-election and is not expected to have primary opposition.

In making his announcement, Taft said: "In this coming contest, my opponent will have the built-in advantages of an incumbent and the enormous resources of the federal government behind him. These certainly give him a lead today."

"But I have too much confidence in the good sense and character of our citizens of this area not to believe that we can overcome. It will take hard work, organization, and the help of the many who have offered it, and more. With all of these the job can be done and I pledge my every effort to do it."

Gls Enter Crucial Battle in Paddyfield

BAO TRAI, Viet Nam (AP) — The mud was deep and slimy. Men moved at a permanent crouch because of sniper bullets.

In seven hours, a whole battalion moved forward only 30 yards.

U.S. paratroopers were getting their first taste of the Mekong Delta.

"It's hell out there," said Staff Sgt. Richard Banks of Pensacola, Fla., as he lay wounded on a dry patch of ground and waved toward the marshlands 50 feet away. He had been hit by grenade fragments.

"Yes, it's hell out there," he said, "but at least you can see the devil."

He meant the Viet Cong who had held up the battalion since dawn. Planes and artillery were blasting the guerrillas, but it was slow going.

"They're over there, in that clump of wild surar cane and bamboo. And over there along that canal," said Lt. Col. George E. Dexter of Albuquerque, N.M.

Two of Dexter's companies were in heavy contact with the dug-in enemy and a third was moving up. By evening he was trying to decide whether to launch a night assault or whether to swing back in to the landing zone and hang tight for the night.

Whatever he did, trouble awaited him, because the Mekong Delta for 20 years has meant trouble.

During the Indochina war, the French kept the main roads open with a series of heavily fortified outposts and generally stayed out of the rest of the delta.

The French tried to clean out the Red River delta above Hanoi and failed. They didn't even try on the Mekong.

The South Vietnamese government has four infantry divisions — an estimated 20,000 men — in the Mekong Delta, most of them securing government installations. The Viet Cong have an estimated 30,000 men under arms in the area.

In the past year the Viet Cong

and government forces have maintained a sort of standoff in the delta.

Now the Americans have come into this battleground.

The paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade had known only jungle in Viet Nam — the jungles of Zone D, the Iron Triangle and Phuoc Tuy. The increasing momentum of the Viet Cong offensive brought them to the delta west of Saigon.

American units probably will soon be operating in Long An Province, south of Saigon, in the island provinces of Kien Hoa and Vinh Binh, and in the Camau Peninsula.

"Fighting here is a lot better than the jungle," said Sgt. Banks. "You can see where you are going and where you came from."

But the Viet Cong also can see, and they have detailed knowledge of every canal and every dike. Some of the bloodiest battles of the war have been fought in the delta. The paddyfield dikes and canals provide superb cover for the guerrillas.

Prices Going Up At Rapid Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Inflation is very much back in the news today. Prices are rising at the fastest rate in seven years.

As 1966 starts and a new federal budget is being hammered out, debate is growing over how best to deal with the chance of another onslaught of inflation undermining the purchasing power of the dollar. Tighter money? Increased taxes? Less government spending? Government guidelines or controls over wages and prices?

Here are definitions of inflation and kindred terms you'll be seeing in your newspapers more and more in the days ahead:

Inflation — A large and relatively sudden increase in the general price level, is what the public usually thinks of when it hears of inflation.

Classic Inflation — Traditional economists say that inflation really is caused by increases in the quantity of money over short or long periods, so that the money supply is large in comparison with the volume of goods and services offered. With lots of money consumers spend more and prices rise. In extreme cases, inflation results when the public loses confidence in the national currency and rushes to convert money into commodities.

Inflation and the New Economics — Current official monetary policy is to regard small or creeping inflation as harmless if controlled by government guidelines. The idea is to hold wage increases to the rate of gain in productivity — that is, more goods being produced in the same number of man hours of labor. Then prices needn't go up, and should be squeezed if industry tries it. The theory is to keep the economy expanding through plentiful money and credit so as to furnish more goods and services to be bought by consumers with more money to spend — and at about the same price levels.

Hidden Inflation — This occurs when prices are held but the quality of a good or service is cut; or the size or content of a product is cut so that less value is offered for the same price. The size of candy bars has varied with the price of cocoa beans.

Wage-Price Spiral — The bad boy of the late 1950s. Large wage hikes were granted because the cost of living was rising. Then business raised its prices again because its labor costs of production had soared. The cost of living went up as a result, and so did new wage demands. This form of inflation was called cost-push.

Demand-Pull Inflation — This happened right after World War II. Consumers had money and lots of unfilled desires for goods and services that were in short supply. Consumers bid prices up to get scarce items.

Ohio Barber Examiners Under Fire

CLEVELAND (AP)—A civil suit asking Gov. James A. Rhodes to remove the three members of the State Board of Barber Examiners for alleged neglect of duty was filed here Monday by a Barbers Union local.

A hearing on the petition filed in Common Pleas Court is scheduled Jan. 25.

Filed on behalf of Local 129 of the Barbers Union and Barbers Guild No. 1, the suit asks for the dismissal of William A. Schmidt of Cleveland, Charles Dunbar Jr. of New Philadelphia and Vincent Hogue of Cincinnati.

The petition alleges nine instances of misfeasance, malfeasance, nonfeasance and "gross neglect of duty" involving the three men and barber inspector Carl Kelsik.

Among the charges are: —That the State Board harassed Cleveland Barber Robert Carter by frequently inspecting his shop.

—That they allowed the Hotel Sterling Barber Shop in downtown Cleveland and the Village Barber Shop in suburban Brook Park to be operated by apprentices who were not registered barbers.

—That Dunbar and Hogue promised an unidentified barber who had failed the state barber teacher's examination that he would pass the next time he took it.

when rain was general over the state.

Most drivers are more cautious when rain or other bad weather makes highways obviously dangerous, he said.

Speed and failure to yield right of way were the leading causes of fatal accident over New Year's. They were blamed for 25 of the 37 fatal accidents. These factors were blamed for 28 of the Christmas fatal accidents.

Ten pedestrian fatalities were recorded each holiday.

The holiday deaths repeated a pattern of 1957, when both Christmas and New Year's had high tolls. Twenty-five persons died over that New Year's holiday, a day longer than this year. The worst comparable toll was 24 deaths in a 78-hour period in 1960.

The deaths boosted Ohio's 1965 death toll to about 2,300, about 9 per cent over last year.

Last year Ohio had 2,108 traffic deaths. The worst year since records have been kept was 1941, with 2,458 deaths.

Kentucky's Industrial Growth Rockets in '65

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's industrial growth almost doubled during 1965, while the state's unemployment rate dipped to an all-time low, says Gov. Edward T. Breathitt. The governor, in a year-end economic report, said that companies invested $208 million in and expanded plants during the year — nearly $91 million more than the total of 1964. Breathitt said there were 206 announcements of major plant construction in 1965 and said it will mean the creation of 13,900 new jobs in Kentucky.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil V. Hayslip, Route 1. Mr. Peters is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peters, 372 Cedar Heights Road.

The Rev. James K. Boor performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white poinsettias, candelabra and palms. Satin bows marked the aisles.

Mrs. Carl Hohenstein was organist and Miss Sherry Knisley was vocalist for the program of nuptial selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk taffeta designed with a basque bodice enhanced with a sabrina neckline highlighted with reembroidered

Alencon lace and seed pearls and long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with a circular lace insert. A silk taffeta crown held her veil of imported French illusion and she carried a bouquet of lily of the valley centered with a white orchid. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Donald A. Barr was matron of honor for her sister, Mrs. Richard A. Greenlee, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of burgundy antique satin and silk crepe each designed with an empire waistline and portrait neckline. Their theater length veils were caught to matching crowns of antique satin and each carried a colonial bouquet of pink mums accented with pearl lacework. Kimberly Hayslip, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Mr. Joseph L. Smith served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Richard A. Greenlee and Mr. Lester L. Hayslip. Gregory Greenlee, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Hayslip chose for her daughter's wedding a royal blue wool suit with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink satin dress with white accessories. Each wore a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Salem Methodist Church social room. A four tiered wedding cake topped with wedding rings highlighted the bride's table. Hostesses were, Mrs. Willard McCarty, Kingston, Mrs. Dennis Tully, Circleville, Miss Sylvia Roof, Miss Betty Shaeffer and Miss Frances McGhee, Columbus.

Following a wedding trip to Cincinnati the couple resides at 157 1/2 Watt St.

The bride is a graduate of Pickaway Twp. School and Springfield City Hospital School of Nursing. She is employed by Dr. Harry J. Keys, M. D., Columbus.

Washington Society Hopes Luci To Be Wed in White House Rites

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president was delighted when the younger of his two daughters, a lively teen-ager, confided that she wanted to marry.

He thoroughly approved of her young man, and without a moment's hesitation he gave his consent.

So Maria Hester Monroe married Samuel L. Gouverneur, her father's private secretary, in the first White House wedding of a president's daughter.

The pressing question now, nearly a century and half later: Will 18-year-old Luci Baines Johnson become the seventh daughter of a chief executive to be married at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue?

After all, Washington society has been waiting more than 50 years —ever since Eleanor Wilson in 1914, in fact—for another president's child to marry in the executive mansion.

Whenever a president with a marriageable daughter takes office, the capital's socialites are caught up in a euphoric state of anticipation.

Hope bloomed when Lyndon Johnson moved two daughters into the White House, and the wishful rumors started early: Lynda Bird, the older girl, would have a spring wedding in 1964. Later, her engagement to Lt. Bernard Rosenbach was broken quietly.

Now Luci, a convert to Roman Catholicism, is in the spotlight, and she may choose to wed Pat Nugent in church. Wherever the services are held, the wedding is bound to be an event in White House history.

Besides Maria Monroe and the Wilson girls, the marrying first daughters were Elizabeth Tyler, Ellen Grant and Alice Roosevelt.

The only son to say "I do" in the East Room—where Abigail Adams used to hang the family wash and which later, and unrelatedly, became the favorite room for weddings—was Abigail's grandson, young John Adams, son of President John Quincy Adams. He married his cousin, Mary Hellen of Washington, in 1886.

The two widower presidents marrying away from the White House kept it very simple: President Wilson and Edith Bolling Galt in her Georgetown home on Dec. 18, 1915; and President Tyler and Julia Gardiner in New York on June 26, 1894. Tyler also kept it secret until he and his 24-year-old bride, 30 years his junior, arrived at the White House.

Nowadays it's hardly possible for the president's family to keep secrets of martial magnitude.

Back in 1820, when James Monroe's 17-year-old daughter Maria was setting a precedent, press coverage went like this: Two days after the wedding—on March 9—the Washington Intelligencer carried a one-sentence notice of the event.

Social Washington, though, had been planning big things for the first White House wedding of a president's daughter. Then entered Eliza Hay, Monroe's older daughter, who had taken over as mistress of the White House because her mother was an invalid.

Mrs. Hay managed to keep Washington society in a furore most of the time and her sister's wedding was no exception. She invited only relatives and close friends. No cabinet. As for the diplomatic corps, she sent word that the members were not expected to take any notice of the event. They complied with vehemence.

The ceremony in the East Room, though, went off well. Maria looked charming in a light blue dress of stiff silk with intricate embroidery of real wheat stalks, according to accounts.

Elizabeth Tyler's mother was also an invalid, and the only time Letitia Tyler appeared as hostess in the White House was at her third daughter's wedding reception.

Pretty blonde Lizzie Tyler was 19 when she married William Waller of Virginia in the East Room on Jan. 31, 1842. She wore a long lace veil and her face, a sister-in-law wrote later, was "literally covered with blushes and dimples."

By the time Nellie Grant was married on May 21, 1874, the presidential press was gathering steam. Her wedding in the East Room to Algonon Sartoris, a young Englishman, received publicity on both sides of the Atlantic. She had eight bridesmaids and Col. Fred Grant, a brother, was best man.

According to a contemporary account, it was the finest wedding known up to that time in the history of Washington. Wedding presents were valued at $60,000; 200 guests were invited.

For excitement and splendor, no White House wedding surpassed that of Alice Roosevelt's marriage on Feb. 17, 1906, to Nicholas Longworth, Ohio's balding, bachelor congressman. He was 36, she 21.

The witty, prank-loving daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt was married in the East Room at a formal noon ceremony attended by a thousand American and European dignitaries.

Among her wedding gifts were 63 matched pearls with diamond clasp from the Republic of Cuba, a chest of rare silks and ivory carvings from the Empress of China, a mosaic of a Vatican painting from the Pope.

Dear Abby: A Poetic 'No'!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the hostess who resented her guests' well-meaning insistence on pitching in to help her clean up the kitchen after dinner reminded me that I once had that problem. But no more. I found a little poem by Susan Sawyer, which I now have pasted on my kitchen wall. When anyone offers to "help" me, I point to that poem. It says: "Please stay away from my kitchen

From my dishwashing, cooking and such; You were kind to have offered to pitch in

But thanks, no, thank you so much!

Please don't think me ungracious

When I ask that you leave me For my kitchen's not any too spacious

And my routine is strictly my own.

Tell you what: You stay out of my kitchen

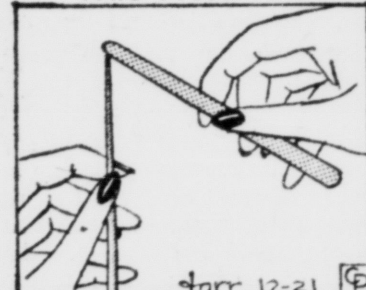

With its sodden, hot, lackluster lures—

When you're here, stay out of my kitchen

And I promise to stay out of yours!"

Sincerely,
MARTHA

According to a contemporary account, it was the finest wedding known up to that time in the history of Washington. Wedding presents were valued at $60,000; 200 guests were invited. For excitement and splendor, no White House wedding surpassed that of Alice Roosevelt's marriage on Feb. 17, 1906, to Nicholas Longworth, Ohio's balding, bachelor congressman. He was 36, she 21.

The witty, prank-loving daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt was married in the East Room at a formal noon ceremony attended by a thousand American and European dignitaries.

Among her wedding gifts were 63 matched pearls with diamond clasp from the Republic of Cuba, a chest of rare silks and ivory carvings from the Empress of China, a mosaic of a Vatican painting from the Pope.

DEAR ABBY: I detest cards. Is there something wrong with me? Don't get the idea that I don't have the brains to play cards because I played an excellent game of contract bridge at one time. (My parents were tournament bridge players.) A few years ago I made up my mind that cards were a stupid waste of time and energy and I gave up the game. My husband says I am being foolish, that being able to play a good game of bridge is a social asset, and I should take it up again. I was recently talked into being a "fourth" and I couldn't wait until the game was over. Am I being stubborn, selfish and inconsiderate? My husband says I am.

DETESTS CARDS

DEAR DETESTS: Anyone who "detests" cards as much as you apparently do, wouldn't add much sociability to a card party, so I say, stick to your original decision and pass.

DEAR ABBY: I am past middle age, unmarried and have many free evenings, so I baby-sit for mothers in my neighborhood. I don't need the money as I have a good daytime job.

My troubles started when some of the women began comparing notes and learned that I don't charge them all the same price. For instance, there's a young mother who works part-time in the evenings. Her husband has been sick and unable to work, and I know they have to watch their pennies, so I charge her half of what I charge women in better circumstances. I have made many exceptions, and varied my prices quite a lot. I've been criticized for this. Do you think I am being fair or not?

older daughter, who had taken over as mistress of the White House because her mother was an invalid.

Mrs. Hay managed to keep Washington society in a furore most of the time and her sister's wedding was no exception. She invited only relatives and close friends. No cabinet. As for the diplomatic corps, she sent word that the members were not expected to take any notice of the event. They complied with vehemence.

The ceremony in the East Room, though, went off well. Maria looked charming in a light blue dress of stiff silk with intricate embroidery of real wheat stalks, according to accounts.

Elizabeth Tyler's mother was also an invalid, and the only time Letitia Tyler appeared as hostess in the White House was at her third daughter's wedding reception.

Pretty blonde Letitia Tyler was 19 when she married William Waller of Virginia in the East Room on Jan. 31, 1842. She wore a long lace veil and her face, a sister-in-law wrote later, was "literally covered with blushes and dimples."

By the time Nellie Grant was married on May 21, 1874, the presidential press was gathering steam. Her wedding in the East Room at Algonron Sartoris, a young Englishman, received publicity on both sides of the Atlantic. She had eight bridesmaids and Col. Fred Grant, a brother, was best man.

Ohio Stars Stand Mighty Tall in 1965 Sports Scene; Browns Given Spotlight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland's National Football League champions scored artistic successes both on the field and at the gate highlighting the Ohio sports scene in 1965.

Coach Blanton Collier's Browns made the big headlines but race tracks in the Buckeye state, enjoying a record-smashing year, came in for a generous share of the receipts.

It was a year filled with surprises, drama, upsets and disappointments. Outstanding individual performances were plentiful.

Jim Brown, Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas, Ike Kelley, Sammy Ellis, Jim Maloney, Rocky Colavito and Jack Nicklaus were the top names who earned well-deserved accolades. There were others, too.

Branch Rickey, the man who broke the color line in baseball and made enormous contributions to the game, succumbed at age 83. A native of Stockdale, Ohio, Rickey was a lifetime trustee of Ohio Wesleyan University.

Plans for a new stadium in Cincinnati to house both the Reds and National Football League team spiced sports activity.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, a long-time sports enthusiast, and a group of Queen City civic leaders got the ball rolling in December with announcement of plans for a new $32 million stadium by fall of 1967.

Paul Brown, the former Cleveland coach and part-owner who carried the Browns to great heights during his era, led a syndicate trying to land an NFL franchise for Cincinnati.

The fabulous Brown, a classy all-pro fullback and one of the games all-time greats, led the way again and won honors as the NFL's Most Valuable Player.

Brown, who led the league in rushing with 1,544 yards in 269 carries, a 5.3-yards per crack average, lost his duel with rookie sensation Gale Sayers of the Bears for the scoring leadership.

Sayers posted an NFL record 22 touchdowns and Brown registered 21. The former Syracuse flash lost his bid to score again when he was ejected midway through the final regular game of the season for fighting.

The Browns did it the hard way getting brilliant performances from reserve players after key injuries to Paul Warfield, Gale Sayers, Jim Houston and Walter Beach.

Gary Collins, hampered by injuries, played in every game and caught 50 passes for 884 yards and 10 touchdowns. In addition, he led the NFL in punting with a 46.7 average.

John Q. Public had the extra buck in his pocket and attendance boomed, almost everywhere.

The pari-mutuel handle at Ohio's thoroughbred tracks reached $111,331,197, an all-time high. Total attendance was 1,675,546, down slightly from the 1,717,292 who visited Buckeye tracks the year before.

Harness tracks around the state enjoyed a banner season. The pari-mutuel handle was a record $52,604,225 and the attendance swelled to 1,332,622, also a record.

Both the handle and attendance at the state's county fair tracks were not included in the all-time figures.

And an Ohio-owned horse, fabled Bret Hanover, stole the spotlight. Bret, named Harness Horse of the Year for an unprecedented second season, became only the second colt in history to cop the Triple Crown of pacing with victories in the Cane Futurity, Little Brown Jug and Messenger Stakes.

Frank Ervin drove the Buckeye bullet to a 1:57 triumph in the Jug at Delaware, the fastest mile ever paced on a half-mile track in a race. His 1:55 at Indianapolis was the fastest ever paced by a 3-year-old pacer and equaled Adios Harry's all-age record.

Bret, scoring in 21 of 24 starts, won for his owner, Richard Downing of Cleveland, an all-time single season record of $340,975.

Bob Farrington, of Richmond, Ohio, again reached the 300 plateau in dash-winning drives, the only American driver ever to do so.

With a late season surge, Farrington pushed his 1965 total to 312, two short of his 1964 mark but still far ahead of his closest rivals.

In baseball, Cleveland and Cincinnati didn't bring home any pennants but had interesting seasons and brought out the crowds.

After persistent talk that the Indians would move elsewhere, Clevelanders rallied to support the Tribe to the tune of 934,786 customers, almost 300,000 more than watched the Indians in '64. Rocky Colavito, a long-time favorite, returned to Cleveland after a five-year absence in a deal involving Kansas City and the Chicago White Sox.

The Indians surrendered catcher John Romano, outfielder Tommie Agee and pitcher Tommy John for the Bronx slugger.

Colavito led American League outfielders in fielding and finished with a .287 batting average, 108 RBI and 26 homers. Leon Aagren topped the Tribe in home runs with 28 but Rocky led the team in RBI as the Indians finished fifth, a notch higher than in '64.

Cincinnati stayed in contention for a NL flag all season but collapsed in the final week in showdown series with Los Angeles, the eventual winner, and San Francisco.

The frustrated Reds slipped to fourth and the front office powers promptly fired field manager Dick Sisler and replaced him with San Diego's Don Hefner.

Still the turnstiles rang a merry tune as home attendance totaled 1,047,824, fourth highest in club history. The year before, Cincinnati drew 862,466.

The Reds were a great drawing team on the road playing before 1,451,838, another club high mark.

Sammy Ellis came of age with a 22-10 record and an ERA of 3.78.

But it was fireballing right-hander Jim Maloney who really supplied the drama.

On Aug. 19, Maloney was not to be denied. He again pitched 10 no-hit innings but this time prevailed over the Cubs, 1-0.

Maloney came close a couple of other times while posting a 20-9 record. He twirled a one-hitter against Milwaukee on April 10 winning 2-0 and two 2-0 decisions.

The Reds made more news in post-season inter-league trading dealing away slugger Frank Robinson to Baltimore for pitcher Milt Pappas, relief hurler Jack Baldschun and outfielder Dick Simpson.

Cincinnati magnets said they gave up Robinson's prolific bat to bolster the pitching corps.

In the minors, Columbus won the International League pennant but bowed in the playoffs to Toronto, Toledo, returning to Triple A ball for the first time since 1955, finished seventh and drew less than 100,000 but envisioned better things in 1966.

In the world of golf, Columbus' Golden Bear Jackie Nicklaus won more money than any other professional golfer for the second straight year. Jack's official total of $140,572 surpassed the previous record of $128,230 set by Arnold Palmer in 1963.

In only four short years since turning pro, Nicklaus has bolted to third place in the modern era money winner's list. He trails only Palmer and Billy Casper.

Young Jack has now salted away $415,945 in winnings. Palmer has earned $643,982 and Casper $471,999.

Nicklaus won $15,000 by finishing second in the World Series of Golf in Akron as Gary Player took the big prize, $50,000, with a 139 to Jack's 142 strokes. Winnings in the World Series are not computed when figuring official tournament earnings.

In other pro events in the Buckeye state, Dan Sikes won $25,000 when he sank a 35-foot birdie putt on the 16th hole for a 272 total in the Cleveland Open, a stroke better than Tony Lema.

Al Geiberger capped $20,000 with a 280 in the Akron Open. Palmer nailed down second with a 284 good for $12,000.

The first Columbus Ladies Professional Golfers Association tournament was a rousing success as Kathy Whitworth, a 25-year-old Texan, won the event with a 54-hole total of 219. The 18,500 who attended the four-day tourney, including a pro-am event, represented the largest crowd in history for a ladies PGA meet.

On the amateur scene, former Ohio Stater Don Nist led from start to finish copping the Ohio Public Links Golf Tournament at Canton.

Mansfield's Dick Flockenzier, playing on his home course, edged Bill Bosshard of Akron 2-up in a torrid 36-hole finale of the Ohio Amateur.

In other Ohio Golf Association-sponsored tourneys, Richard Tornberger of Akron scored 155 for 36 holes and won the seniors; Bob Seiler of Mansfield needed 144 strokes to nab the pre-seniors; and Bruce Helwagon of Circleville, with a 143 in the 16-19 age bracket, and Tim Reardon of Columbus in the 15-and-under group scored victories in the Ohio Juniors.

Judy Rand of Aurora won the Ohio Women's Amateur Tournament at Zanesville.

In pro basketball, the Cincinnati Royals showed a potent one-two punch in Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas. But the Boston Celtics copped the Eastern Division and world championship again while Cincinnati finished second.

Attendance slipped from 228,042 in '63-64 to 163,402 last season.

The "Big O" led the National Basketball Association in assists with 861, or 11.5 a game; was second in free throw shooting with an .830 percentage and third in scoring with 2,779 points in 75 games, or an average of 30.4 a game.

Lucas was third in field goal percentage with a .496 mark and fourth in rebounds with 1,321 or 20 a game. Both were named to the NBA All-Star quintet.

The city of Toledo played host to a pair of the year's biggest events—the AAU boxing matches and the AAU swimming and diving meet.

Beachwood's Clark Graebner moved up in the ranks of American amateur tennis with victories over Roy Emerson of Australia, the world's top-rated player. Graebner and Marty Riessen were tabbed as the top doubles team in America by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Dan Pautler Jr., of Alden, N. Y., a 16-year-old high school junior, won trapshooting's big prize when he captured the coveted Grand American Handicap at the 66th trapshoot in Vandalia. Pautler broke 99 of 100 targets from 20 yards to outgun a record field of 3,031.

On the college front, Coach Woody Hayes, stripped of some stellar talent via graduation, guided Ohio State's football forces to a strong 7-2 record and second place in the B.G. Ten behind mighty Michigan State. It was the 14th winning season in Hayes' 15 years at the Buckeye helm.

Coach Fred Taylor's basketball squad didn't fare as well finishing 12-12. The Bucks had captured or shared five straight Big Ten championships but finished sixth with a 6-6 showing.

OSU's football attendance slipped by 135 fans a game but the Buckeyes still averaged 83,256 in five games. It marked the eighth consecutive season and the 14th in the last 15 that Ohio had won the national attendance derby.

The Bucks' Ike Kelley was named to the All-America team as a linebacker. Bowling Green's Mike Weger, only a junior, was a second team defensive back selection and Allen Smith was a first team Little All-America choice for his grid heroics at Findlay.

Ohio University had its worst football season ever, losing all 10 games but the Bobcats drew a record attendance for the school.

Overall, attendance was up in the seven-team Mid-American Conference with 396,905 viewing 33 games compared to 362,793 in 1964.

At least four Ohio college basketball teams had successful seasons with Central State leading the way.

The Marauders brought a 25-9 record into the NAIA tournament and won five straight in the week-long grueling competition for a 30-0 finish.

Central State beat Oklahoma Baptist 85-51 in the finale to become the first champion in the 28-year history of the tourney to go a full season unbeaten. The Marauders' 36-game winning streak was snapped on Dec. 15 by Steubenville, 58-57.

Don Donohue, in his first year as head basketball coach at Dayton, guided the Flyers to a 22-7 record and a berth in the NCAA tournament where UD nipped Ohio University 66-65 before losing to Michigan, 98-71.

Six-foot-11 Hank Finkel was the big gun hitting 65 per cent from the floor for 733 points, an average of 25.3 per game, all school records.

Ohio U. finished with an overall 19-7 mark and tied Miami for the Mid-American Conference crown with an 11-1 season. The Bobcats then beat the Redskins 76-71 in a playoff for the right to represent the league in the NCAA. The loss to Dayton followed.

Small college power Akron closed 21-7, winning the Ohio Conference tourney and the NCAA Midwest Tournament before losing in the first round of the NCAA finals at Evansville to St. Michaels, 101-87.

Ohio U. fielded title teams in baseball, golf, cross country, and swimming to annex the Reese Cup, the MAC's All-Sports Trophy, for the fifth time in the past seven years.

Bowling Green and Miami deadlocked for the championship in football, the first time in Mid-Am history two teams tied for grid honors.

Under Commissioner Bob James' first full year with the conference, the MAC signed an eight-week TV package for basketball that starts Jan. 8, won entry to the NCAA's football "Game-of-the-week" television series for at least the 1965-66 seasons and sanctioned league participation in the National Invitational Tournament.

In the 15-member Ohio conference, Akron and Wittenberg tied with 12-2 records for the OC basketball crown with Akron prevailing in the post-season tournament.

Other sport titlists were Baldwin Wallace, wrestling; Kenyon, swimming; Ohio Wesleyan, baseball; Akron, outdoor track; Mount Union, indoor track; Ohio Wesleyan, tennis; Kenyon, golf; Muskingum, football; Akron, cross-country.

Denison, with a 6-1-1 record, was voted best in the Ohio Collegiate Soccer Association and Ohio State, 13-1, and Denison, 9-1, were voted co-champs by coaches in the Midwest Lacrosse Association.

The Mike Gregory most valuable player awards went to Barry Clemens, Ohio Wesleyan, in basketball; Mark DeVilling, Muskingum, football lineman and Rod Dingle, Wooster, football back.

In the Mid-Ohio Conference, Cedarville copped basketball honors; Ashland was king in football for the fourth straight year; Wilmington was tops in tennis and golf and Ashland in track.

In scholastic athletics, Massillon was ranked the state's top football team by The Associated Press and won its 11th mythical state championship retiring its third Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy. Sandusky finished a close second.

Dover St. Joseph nabbed honors in the small school category shading Marion Catholic.

Genial Paul Walker, the veteran Middletown basketball coach, notched his 500th victory and became only the third Buckeye mentor to accomplish the feat. Jim Robinson of Canton Lehman, retired, won 598 in 41 years and the late Herman

'Bama QB To Assist Dixie Stars

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Alabama quarterback Steve Sloan, nursing some sore ribs bruised during his Orange Bowl appearance, was expected to practice today with the South All-Stars for Saturday's annual Senior Bowl football game.

Sloan, who shattered all-time Alabama passing records and a couple of Orange Bowl marks too, was examined by the Senior Bowl physician Monday after he and three other Crimson Tide players arrived from Miami.

The South All-Stars ran through their first practice sessions Monday, with the quarterback chores being handled by Randy Johnson of Texas A&I. Johnson spurred the South to a victory in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery on Christmas Day.

The North Stars also worked out, suiting up in sweat clothes for a session. Tulsa's Bill Anderson directed the North offensive unit. With him in the backfield were Bob Daugherty of Tulsa, Don Kunit of Penn State and Walt Garrison of Oklahoma State.

The Rebels are being coached by Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets of the AFL. Head coach for the North is Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots.

Saban Back Coaching on College Level

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Lou Saban was back coaching college football at Maryland today even though it pays less than a professional because "above all, it has the right spirit of the sport in mind."

"I left the pro ranks with one idea," said the surprising coach under whom the Buffalo Bills won two straight championships in the American Football League.

"I wanted to return to college coaching because I felt there I could contribute much, not from the point of coaching alone, but from the point of living."

"I am a firm believer in a few rules in life. I feel sports develop character and also develops the man."

"The emphasis on winning in the pro ranks is everything. I am sure it is not true on the college level."

Saban's contract for four years provides a starting salary of $22,500 a year and gradually rising to $25,000. He admitted it was less than he was paid at Buffalo, but said "I would rather not mention the amount involved." It was believed to be $30,000.

"Rup" Rearick of Canton McKinley scored 511 triumphs. Other high school state champions:

Class AA baseball — Shaker Heights; A basketball — West Salem Northwestern.

Golf—Upper Arlington. Gymnastics — Kettering Fairmont East.

Swimming—Cleveland Heights. Tennis—Doubles, Fred Carpenter and Lee Adams, Upper Arlington; singles, Chick Hawley, Cincinnati Princeton.

Track and field—Class AA, Cleveland Glenville; A Fairport Harbor.

Wrestling — North Canton Hoover.

10 Chargers To Face Bills In AFL Test

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Ten of the players the Buffalo Bills faced in the American Football League championship game will be coming at them again Jan. 15 in the match between the champion Bills and the AFL All-Stars.

The 10 are San Diego Chargers, and six of them were selected Monday by their coach, Sid Gillman, who also is coach of the All-Stars by virtue of piloting the league's runner-up.

Twenty-four players of the 38-man All-Star squad had been named in a poll of the league's players before the championship game, but seven of those were Buffalo players and had to be replaced.

Gillman also had to pick replacements for two injured players, San Diego flankerback Lance Alworth and Denver offensive end Lionel Taylor, so he ended up naming 23 of the All-Stars.

To replace Alworth and Taylor, he chose San Diego defensive back Ken Graham and Kansas City offensive end Fred Arbanas.

To replace Buffalo's Jack Kemp, Billy Shaw, Tom Sestak, Mike Stratton, George Byrd, George Saines and Pete Gogolak, he named:

San Diego quarterback John Hadl, Oakland guard Wayne Hawkins, Kansas City defensive tackle Buck Buchanan, San Diego linebacker Frank Buncom, San Diego defensive back Speedy Duncan, New York defensive back Dainard Paulson and Boston kicker Gino Cappelletti.

Giddings Is Named Utah Grid Coach

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Mike Giddings, assistant football coach at the University of Southern California, has accepted the head coaching job at the University of Utah.

Giddings, 32, was chosen Monday after a list of 114 prospects had been narrowed to five finalists.

He succeeds Ray Nagel, who resigned last month to take over as head football coach at the University of Iowa.

Giddings received a three-year contract at $16,000 a year — the same as Nagel had been getting.

Navy All-America Killed in Action

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Lt. (j.g.) Donald C. MacLaughlin, a former All-America lacrosse player and 1963 recipient of the Naval Academy's highest athletic award, has been killed in action in Viet Nam.

Dr. D.C. MacLaughlin Sr. of suburban Catonsville said Monday he had been advised by the Navy that his son's body had been spotted on a mountainside near the wreckage of his plane. The 24-year-old flier had been reported missing Sunday.

At the Naval Academy, where he was a 1963 graduate, MacLaughlin was in the top 10 per cent of his class and as a senior was awarded the Naval Academy Athletic Association Sword for excellence in athletics. He was an All-America midfielder in lacrosse and also played college soccer.

Keigly Elected Head Of Ohio Horsemen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George Keigly, editor of the Richmond Gazette, is the 1966 president of the Ohio Harness Horsemen's Association. He was elected at the annual meeting Monday.

Named directors were Dick Buxton, Urbana; Arlo Edwards, Croton; Dr. Sam W. Howe, Marietta; Ralph Garby, Piqua; Dave McClain, Lima, and Dale Miller, Tipp City.

Royals Clip Lowly Hawks

Robertson Paces 130-114 Victory

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — St. Louis' National Basketball Association home away from home is becoming a depressed area for the low-flying Hawks.

The Cincinnati Royals, sparked by Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas and super-sub Happy Hairston, whipped St. Louis 130-114 in Monday night's lone NBA game, giving the Hawks an 0-3 record at Memphis, where they'll play eight home games this season.

The loss dropped St. Louis six games under .500 at 15-21 and into a fourth place tie with San Francisco in the league's Western Division. Cincinnati climbed within two games of Boston's Eastern Division leaders with its third victory in four season meetings with the Hawks.

Hairston, an unsung second-year pro who has been making a habit of coming off the Cincinnati bench to ignite rallies, threw in nine straight points in the final minutes of the first half, giving the Royals a 59-50 lead they never relinquished.

The 6-foot-7 New York University alumnus finished with 20 points. Robertson scored 37 points, including 18 in Cincinnati's 40-point third quarter, while Lucas collected 22 points and 19 rebounds.

The Royals, however, lost center Wayne Embry early in the game. The muscular pivotman suffered an eye injury in a collision with St. Louis rookie Jim Washington and was taken to Memphis hospital for treatment.

Cliff Hagan netted 30 points and Zelmo Beaty 21 for St. Louis, which fell behind 35-19 in the first quarter, then rallied for a 45-40 lead before Hairston and the Royals took charge.

Rathburn Paces Northwood With 30.1 Scoring Average

Tom Rathburn, a graduate of Ashville High School where he earned all-state Class A basketball honors, is pacing Northwood Institute cagers with a 30.1 per game scoring average.

It marks the second year the Ashville product has starred for the small Michigan college, located in Midland, Mich.

Last year he averaged 20.7 points per game as Northwood compiled a 15-4 record for the season.

This year the team owns a 5-3 record. One of the losses came in double overtime to Wilberforce University of Ohio.

RATHBURN scored 44 points as his team went down to a 151-142 loss.

One of the wins was over Ohio Northern. In this tilt, Rathburn came up with a 34-point effort as the Northmen downed the Ohio team, 97-84. A member of the Ohio Northern team is Bill Fortner, another Ashville product. Fortner, a freshman at the school, has made the traveling squad. He is a 1965 graduate of Teays Valley.

In spite of Rathburn's prolific scoring pace, he shares top scoring honors with Jerry Pettway, who has also been sizzling the nets with a 30.1 scoring average. Last year, Pettway tossed in points at a 34.7 clip per game.

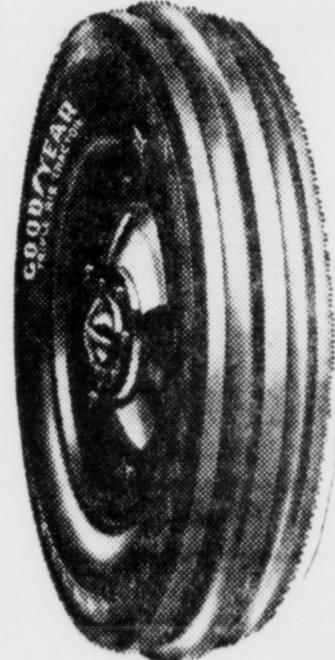

The American League in 1965 failed to draw nine million fans for the first time since 1955. It drew 8,860,764 fans.

CHS Wrestlers At Central Today

The Circleville High School wrestling team gets back into action tonight following the extended holidays with a match at Columbus Central.

The meet is slated to get underway at 4:15. In other sports action the Circleville Junior High and Freshman cage teams travel to Lancaster General Sherman for a twin bill.

The American League in 1965 failed to draw nine million fans for the first time since 1955. It drew 8,860,764 fans.

Ohio Stars Stand Mighty Tall in 1965 Sports Scene; Browns Given Spotlight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland's National Football League champions scored artistic successes both on the field and at the gate highlighting the Ohio sports scene in 1965.

Coach Blanton Collier's Browns made the big headlines but race tracks in the Buckeye state, enjoying a record-smashing year, came in for a generous share of the receipts.

It was a year filled with surprises, drama, upsets and disappointments. Outstanding individual performances were plentiful.

Jim Brown, Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas, Ike Kelley, Sammy Ellis, Jim Maloney, Rocky Colavito and Jack Nicklaus were the top names who earned well-deserved accolades. There were others, too.

Branch Rickey, the man who broke the color line in baseball and made enormous contributions to the game, succumbed at age 83. A native of Stockdale, Ohio, Rickey was a lifetime trustee of Ohio Wesleyan University.

Plans for a new stadium in Cincinnati to house both the Reds and National Football League team spiced sports activity.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, a long-time sports enthusiast, and a group of Queen City civic leaders got the ball rolling in December with announcement of plans for a new $32 million stadium by fall of 1967.

Paul Brown, the former Cleveland coach and part-owner who carried the Browns to great heights during his era, led a syndicate trying to land an NFL franchise for Cincinnati.

The fabulous Brown, a classy all-pro fullback and one of the games all-time greats, led the way again and won honors as the NFL's Most Valuable Player.

Brown, who led the league in rushing with 1,544 yards in 289 carries, a 5.3-yards per crack average, lost his duel with rookie sensation Gale Sayers of the Bears for the scoring leadership.

Sayers posted an NFL record 22 touchdowns and Brown registered 21. The former Syracuse flash lost his bid to score again when he was ejected midway through the final regular game of the season for fighting.

The Browns did it the hard way getting brilliant performances from reserve players after key injuries to Paul Warfield, Galen Fiss, Jim Houston and Walter Beach.

Gary Collins, hampered by injuries, played in every game and caught 50 passes for 884 yards and 10 touchdowns. In addition, he led the NFL in punting with a 46.7 average.

John Q. Public had the extra buck in his pocket and attendance boomed, almost everywhere.

The pari-mutuel handle at Ohio's thoroughbred tracks reached $111,331,197, an all-time high. Total attendance was 1,675,546, down slightly from the 1,717,292 who visited Buckeye tracks the year before.

Harness tracks around the state enjoyed a banner season. The pari-mutuel handle was a record $52,604,225 and the attendance swelled to 1,332,022, also a record.

Both the handle and attendance at the state's county fair tracks were not included in the all-time figures.

And an Ohio-owned horse, fabled Bret Hanover, stole the spotlight. Bret, named Harness Horse of the Year for an unprecedented second season, became only the second colt in history to cop the Triple Crown of pacing with victories in the Cane Futurity, Little Brown Jug and Messenger Stakes.

Frank Ervin drove the Buckeye bullet to a 1:57 triumph in the Jug at Delaware, the fastest mile ever paced on a half-mile track in a race. His 1:55 at Indianapolis was the fastest ever paced by a 3-year-old pacer and equaled Adios Harry's all-age record.

Bret, scoring in 21 of 24 starts, won for his owner, Richard Downing of Cleveland, an all-time single season record of $340,975.

Bob Farrington, of Richwood, Ohio, again reached the 300 plateau in dash-winning drives, the only American driver ever to do so.

With a late season surge, Farrington pushed his 1965 total to 312, two short of his 1964 mark but still far ahead of his closest rivals.

In baseball, Cleveland and Cincinnati didn't bring home any pennants but had interesting seasons and brought out the crowds.

After persistent talk that the Indians would move elsewhere, Clevelanders rallied to support the Tribe to the tune of 934,786 customers, almost 300,000 more than watched the Indians in '64. Rocky Colavito, a long-time favorite, returned to Cleveland after a five-year absence in a deal involving Kansas City and the Chicago White Sox.

The Indians surrendered catcher John Romano, outfielder Tommie Agee and pitcher Tommy John for the Bronx slugger.

Colavito led American League outfielders in fielding and finished with a .287 batting average, 108 RBI and 26 homers. Leon Aagner topped the Tribe in home runs with 28 but Rocky led the team in RBI as the Indians finished fifth, a notch higher than in '64.

Cincinnati stayed in contention for a NL flag all season but collapsed in the final week in showdown series with Los Angeles, the eventual winner, and San Francisco.

The frustrated Reds slipped to fourth and the front office powers promptly fired field Manager Dick Sisler and replaced him with San Diego's Don Heffner.

Still the turnstiles rang a merry tune as home attendance totaled 1,047,824, fourth highest in club history. The year before, Cincinnati drew 862,466.

The Reds were a great drawing team on the road playing before 1,451,838, another club high mark.

Sammy Ellis came of age with a 22-10 record and an ERA of 3.78.

But it was fireballing right-hander Jim Maloney who really supplied the drama.

On Aug. 19, Maloney was not to be denied. He again pitched 10 no-hit innings but this time prevailed over the Cubs, 1-0.

Maloney came close a couple of other times while posting a 20-9 record. He twirled a one-hitter against Milwaukee on April 10 winning 2-0 and two 2-0 decisions.

The Reds made more news in post-season inter-league trading dealing away slugger Frank Robinson to Baltimore for pitcher Milt Pappas, relief hurler Jack Baldschun and outfielder Dick Simpson.

Cincinnati magnets said they gave up Robinson's prolific bat to bolster the pitching corps.

In the minors, Columbus won the International League pennant but bowed in the playoffs to Toronto, Toledo, returning to Triple A ball for the first time since 1955, finished seventh and drew less than 100,000 but envisioned better things in 1966.

In the world of golf, Columbus' Golden Bear Jackie Nicklaus won more money than any other professional golfer for the second straight year. Jack's official total of $140,572 surpassed the previous record of $128,230 set by Arnold Palmer in 1963.

In only four short years since turning pro, Nicklaus has bolted to third place in the modern era money winner's list. He trails only Palmer and Billy Casper.

Young Jack has now sailed away $415,945 in winnings. Palmer has earned $643,982 and Casper $471,999.

Nicklaus won $15,000 by finishing second in the World Series of Golf in Akron as Gary Player took the big prize, $50,000, with a 139 to Jack's 142 strokes. Winnings in the World Series are not computed when figuring official tournament earnings.

In other pro events in the Buckeye state, Dan Sikes won $25,000 when he sank a 35-foot birdie putt on the 16th hole for a 272 total in the Cleveland Open, a stroke better than Tony Lema.

Al Geiberger copped $20,000 with a 280 in the Akron Open. Palmer nailed down second with a 284 good for $12,000.

The first Columbus Ladies Professional Golfers Association tournament was a rousing success as Kathy Whitworth, a 25-year-old Texan, won the event with a 54-hole total of 219. The 18,500 who attended the four-day tourney, including a pro-am event, represented the largest crowd in history for a ladies PGA meet.

On the amateur scene, former Ohio Stater Don Nist led from start to finish copping the Ohio Public Links Golf Tournament at Canton.

Mansfield's Dick Flockenzier, playing on his home course, edged Bill Bosshard of Akron 2-up in a torrid 36-hole finale of the Ohio Amateur.

In other Ohio Golf Association-sponsored tourneys, Richard Tornberger of Akron scored 155 for 36 holes and won the seniors; Bob Seiler of Mansfield needed 144 strokes to nab the pre-seniors; and Bruce Helwig of Circleville, with a 143 in the 16-19 age bracket, and Tim Reardon of Columbus in the 15-and-under group scored victories in the Ohio Juniors.

Judy Rand of Aurora won the Ohio Women's Amateur Tournament at Zanesville.

In pro basketball, the Cincinnati Royals showed a potent one-two punch in Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas. But the Boston Celtics copped the Eastern Division and world championship again while Cincinnati finished second.

Attendance slipped from 228,042 in '63-64 to 163,502 last season.

The "Big O" led the National Basketball Association in assists with 861, or 11.5 a game; was second in free throw shooting with an 830 percentage and third in scoring with 2,779 points in 75 games, or an average of 30.4 a game.

Lucas was third in field goal percentage with a .496 mark and fourth in rebounds with 1,321 or 20 a game. Both were named to the NBA All-Star quintet.

The city of Toledo played host to a pair of the year's biggest events—the AAU boxing matches and the AAU swimming and diving meet.

Beachwood's Clark Graebner moved up in the ranks of American amateur tennis with victories over Roy Emerson of Australia, the world's top-rated player. Graebner and Marty Riessen were tabbed as the top doubles team in America by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Dan Pautler Jr., of Alden, N. Y., a 16-year-old high school junior, won traphooting's biggest prize when he captured the coveted Grand American Handicap at the 66th traphoot in Vandalia. Pautler broke 99 of 100 targets from 20 yards to outgun a record field of 3,031.

On the college front, Coach Woody Hayes, stripped of some stellar talent via graduation, guided Ohio State's football forces to a strong 7-2 record and second place in the Big Ten behind mighty Michigan State. It was the 14th winning season in Hayes' 15 years at the Buckeye helm.

Coach Fred Taylor's basketball squad didn't fare as well finishing 12-12. The Bucks had captured or shared five straight Big Ten championships but finished sixth with a 6-6 showing.

OSU's football attendance slipped by 135 fans a game but the Buckeyes still averaged 83,256 in five games. It marked the eighth consecutive season and the 14th in the last 15 that Ohio had won the national attendance derby.

The Bucks' Ike Kelley was named to the All-America team as a linebacker. Bowling Green's Mike Weger, only a junior, was a second team defensive back selection and Allen Smith was a first team Little All-America choice for his grid heroics at Findlay.

Ohio University had its worst football season ever, losing all 10 games but the Bobcats drew a record attendance for the school.

Overall, attendance was up in the seven-team Mid-American Conference with 396,905 viewing 33 games compared to 362,793 in 1964.

At least four Ohio college basketball teams had successful seasons with Central State leading the way.

The Marauders brought a 25-9 record into the NAIA tournament and won five straight in the week-long grueling competition for a 30-0 finish.

Central State beat Oklahoma Baptist 85-51 in the finale to become the first champion in the 28-year history of the tourney to go a full season unbeaten. The Marauders' 3.6-a-game winning skoin was snapped on Dec. 15 by Steubenville, 55-57.

Don Donohoe, in his first year as head basketball coach at Dayton, guided the Flyers to a 22-7 record and a berth in the NCAA tournament where UD nipped Ohio University 66-65 before losing to Michigan, 98-71.

Six-foot-11 Hank Finkel was the big gun hitting 65 per cent from the floor for 733 points, an average of 25.3 per game, all school records.

Ohio U. finished with an overall 19-7 mark and tied Miami for the Mid-American Conference crown with an 11-1 season. The Bobcats then beat the Redskins 76-71 in a playoff for the right to represent the league in the NCAA. The loss to Dayton followed.

Small college power Akron closed 21-7, winning the Ohio Conference tourney and the NCAA Midwest Tournament before losing in the first round of the NCAA finals at Evansville to St. Michaels, 101-87.

Ohio U. fielded title teams in baseball, golf, cross country, and swimming to annex the Reese Cup, the MAC's All-Sports Trophy, for the fifth time in the past seven years.

Bowling Green and Miami deadlocked for the championship in football, the first time in Mid-Am history two teams tied for grid honors.

Under Commissioner Bob James' first full year with the conference, the MAC signed an eight-week TV package for basketball that starts Jan. 8, won entry to the NCAA's football "Game-of-the-week" television series for at least the 1965-67 seasons and sanctioned league participation in the National Invitational Tournament.

In the 15-member Ohio conference, Akron and Wittenberg tied with 12-2 records for the OC basketball crown with Akron prevailing in the post-season tournament.

Other sport titlists were Baldwin Wallace, wrestling; Kenyon, swimming; Ohio Wesleyan, baseball; Akron, outdoor track; Mount Union, indoor track; Ohio Wesleyan, tennis; Kenyon, golf; Muskingum, football; Akron, cross-country.

Denison, with a 6-1-1 record, was voted best in the Ohio Collegiate Soccer Association and Ohio State, 13-1, and Denison, 9-1, were voted co-champs by coaches in the Midwest Lacrosse Association.

The Mike Gregory most valuable player awards went to Barry Clemens, Ohio Wesleyan, in basketball; Mark DeVilling, Muskingum, football lineman and Rod Dingle, Wooster, football back.

In the Mid-Ohio Conference, Cedarville copped basketball honors; Ashland was king in football for the fourth straight year; Wilmington was tops in tennis and golf and Ashland in track.

In scholastic athletics, Massillon was ranked the state's top football team by The Associated Press and won its 11th mythical state championship retiring its third Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy. Sandusky finished a close second.

Dover St. Joseph nabbed honors in the small school category shading Marion Catholic.

Genial Paul Walker, the veteran Middletown basketball coach, notched his 500th victory and became only the third Buckeye mentor to accomplish the feat. Jim Robinson of Canton Lehman, retired, won 598 in 41 years and the late Herman

'Bama QB To Assist Dixie Stars

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Alabama quarterback Steve Sloan, nursing some sore ribs bruised during his Orange Bowl appearance, was expected to practice today with the South All-Stars for Saturday's annual Senior Bowl football game.

Sloan, who shattered all-time Alabama passing records and a couple of Orange Bowl marks too, was examined by the Senior Bowl physician Monday after he and three other Crimson Tide players arrived from Miami.

The South All-Stars ran through their first practice sessions Monday, with the quarterback chores being handled by Randy Johnson of Texas A&I. Johnson spurred the South to a victory in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery on Christmas Day.

The North Stars also worked out, suiting up in sweat clothes for a session. Tulsa's Bill Anderson directed the North offensive unit. With him in the backfield were Bob Daugherty of Tulsa, Don Kunit of Penn State and Walt Garrison of Oklahoma State.

The Rebels are being coached by Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets of the AFL. Head coach for the North is Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots.

Saban Back Coaching on College Level

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Lou Saban was back coaching college football at Maryland today even though it pays less than a professional because "above all, it has the right spirit of the sport in mind."

"I left the pro ranks with one idea," said the surprising coach under whom the Buffalo Bills won two straight championships in the American Football League.

"I wanted to return to college coaching because I felt there I could contribute much, not from the point of coaching alone, but from the point of living."

"I am a firm believer in a few rules in life. I feel sports develop character and also develops the man."

"The emphasis on winning in the pro ranks is everything. I am sure it is not true on the college level."

Saban's contract for four years provides a starting salary of $22,500 a year and gradually rising to $25,000. He admitted it was less than he was paid at Buffalo, but said "I would rather not mention the amount involved." It was believed to be $30,000.

Royals Clip Lowly Hawks

Robertson Paces 130-114 Victory

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — St. Louis' National Basketball Association home away from home is becoming a depressed area for the low-flying Hawks.

The Cincinnati Royals, sparked by Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas and super-sub Happy Hairston, whipped St. Louis 130-114 in Monday night's lone NBA game, giving the Hawks an 0-3 record at Memphis, where they'll play eight home games this season.

The loss dropped St. Louis six games under .500 at 15-21 and into a fourth place tie with San Francisco in the league's Western Division. Cincinnati climbed within two games of Boston's Eastern Division leaders with its third victory in four season meetings with the Hawks.

Hairston, an unsung second-year pro who has been making a habit of coming off the Cincinnati bench to ignite rallies, threw in nine straight points in the final minutes of the first half, giving the Royals a 59-50 lead they never relinquished. The 6-foot-7 New York University alumnum finished with 20 points.

Robertson scored 37 points, including 18 in Cincinnati's 40-point third quarter, while Lucas collected 22 points and 19 rebounds.

The Royals, however, lost center Wayne Embrey early in the game. The muscular pivotman suffered an eye injury in a collision with St. Louis rookie Jim Washington and was taken to Memphis hospital for treatment.

Cliff Hagan netted 30 points and Zelmo Beaty 21 for St. Louis, which fell behind 35-19 in the first quarter, then rallied for a 45-40 lead before Hairston and the Royals took charge.

New York-Born Texans Help To Whip Tulsa '5'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A trio of city slickers from New York have brought schoolyard basketball to cowboy country and nobody at Texas Western minds the infiltration.

The Miners rolled to their 11th straight victory Monday night, whipping Tulsa 63-54 at El Paso, as 5-foot-6 Willie Worsley led the attack with 18 points.

Worsley, reserve forward Willie Cager, and 6-foot-7 Nevil Shed, who says he's an inch taller and is the club's second best scorer, all learned their basketball on concrete courts in New York.

The ninth-ranked Miners started slowly but opened a 13-point lead by halftime and then coasted the rest of the way.

Three other ranked teams including Kentucky, the only other undefeated club, also won Monday night.

Adolph Rupp's Wildcats protected their No. 2 ranking with

Yule Holiday Tourney Kings Gain in Ratings

Duke Still No. 1,
Kentucky Second,
Vanderbilt Third

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania, Providence, Texas Western and UCLA, each a winner of a holiday tournament last week, have gained considerable ground in the latest Associated Press major college basketball poll.

Duke remains a solid leader, while unbeaten Kentucky rushed up to take second place.

The Blue Devils from Durham, N.C., garnered 389 points, including 10 for each of the 34 first place votes they received in the balloting by a special panel of 42 regional experts.

Duke has won seven games in a row, including victories over Notre Dame and Wake Forest last week that lifted its record to 9-1.

Kentucky advanced from fifth to second after beating Notre Dame 103-69 for its eighth in a row. The Wildcats had five first-place votes and 299 points.

Vanderbilt is third. Then came St. Joseph's, Bradley, Providence, Iowa, Brigham Young, Texas Western and UCLA. The voting was based on games through last Saturday.

Vanderbilt, the runner-up a week ago, slipped to third after losing to Southern California in the Los Angeles Classic. It was the Commodores' first loss of the season.

St. Joseph's, winners of the Quaker City Tournament, climbed from eighth to fourth. The Hawks are 9-2. Bradley fell two places to fifth after losing to Indiana. Providence, the ECAC Holiday Festival champion, jumped from 10th to sixth.

Iowa, loser to Texas Western in the Sun Bowl final, dropped from fourth to seventh. The triumph helped Texas Western, 10-0, move into the No. 9 spot. The Miners were unraked last week.

Brigham Young slipped two notches to eighth after losing for the first time, 71-69 to LaSalle. UCLA, the 1964-65 NCAA champion, moved back into the rankings. The Bruins took over 10th place after winning the Los Angeles Classic.

Michigan, No. 7 a week ago, and Minnesota, No. 9, dropped out of the Top Ten. The Wolverines have lost four games and the Gophers three.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses, records through games of Saturday, Jan. 1, and total points on a 10-9-8-7, etc. basis:

1. Duke 34 9-1	389
2. Kentucky 5 8-0	299
3. Vanderbilt 1 10-1	260
4. St. Joseph's, Pa. 9-2	197
5. Bradley 1 10-1	195
6. Providence 8-1	186
7. Iowa 1 8-1	126

Alabama Voted As 1965 College Football King

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Alabama's Crimson Tide, overwhelming victor over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl, was named the national collegiate football champion for the second straight year today in The Associated Press final poll of the season.

The verdict of a nationwide panel of 57 sports writers and sportscasters made it three titles in five years for Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, and gives 'Bama permanent possession of the big, silver AP trophy.

Ironically, when the Tide won last year, the poll was taken at the close of the regular season and 'Bama went on to lose to Texas in the Orange Bowl.

This year the final poll of the season was conducted after the New Year's bowl games — the first time it had been held until after the bowls — because the six top teams were in action New Year's Day.

And it was the unprecedented defeat of three hitherto unbeaten teams in the bowl game that vaulted Alabama to the national title.

Alabama, with an 8-1-1 record, was ranked fourth behind unbeaten Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska going into the New Year's games.

Top-ranked Michigan State was upset by UCLA 14-12 in the Rose Bowl, No. 2 Arkansas' 22-game winning string was halted 14-7 by Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl and Alabama crushed No. 3 Nebraska 39-28 in the Orange Bowl.

Michigan State slipped to second and Arkansas to third in the final rankings. UCLA moved up from fifth to fourth and Nebraska dropped to fifth.

Following in order were Missouri, 20-18 winner over Florida in the Sugar Bowl, Tennessee, 27-6 winner over Tulsa in the Bluebonnet Bowl, LSU, Notre Dame and Southern California.

Texas Tech, ranked 10th at the end of the regular season but upset 31-21 by Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl, dropped out of the Top Ten and was replaced by Louisiana State.

Alabama polled 37 of the 57 first-place votes and piled up 537 points on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Michigan State collected 18 first-place votes and 479 points while Arkansas and UCLA both were named first on one ballot. Arkansas received 413 points, UCLA 391 and Nebraska 358.

Alabama is the first team to win consecutive national titles since Oklahoma accomplished the feat in 1955 and 1956. 'Bama's two straight championships go with the 1961 title to make it three in five years for Bryant, who formerly coached at Texas A&M and Kentucky.

The three championships give Alabama permanent possession of the AP trophy, which goes to the first team to win three titles

Alabama's Crimson Tide, overwhelming victor over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl, was named the national collegiate football champion for the second straight year today in The Associated Press final poll of the season.

Annual Sulky Honors To Be Presented

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 500 Ohio harness horsemen are expected here tonight for the annual United States Trotting Association District One (Ohio) business session and banquet.

Two awards, of national and Ohio significance, will be presented at the dinner-dance. They are the USTA-sponsored national dash — winning drive trophy and the Ohio Harners Horse of the Year plaque.

Robert Farrington, the Richwood, Ohio reinsman, will receive his second successive dash — winning championship award. Farrington won a total of 310 races during the 1955 season, falling just three short of breaking his own all-time national total of 312 victories set in 1964.

Ohio Horse of the Year, for the second straight time, is Bret Hanover, the fabled 3-year-old pacer owned by Richard Downer of Cleveland.

Bret captured national honors as a 2-year-old and again in 1965 rolling up the highest number of points ever accorded in national balloting for the award.

Lugannani Is Named Cincinnati Fire Chief
CINCINNATI (AP)—Bert A. Lugannani, 51, a fireman here since 1937, is Cincinnati's new fire chief. He was named Monday to succeed Dan Vogel, who announced a month ago he's retiring effective April 17. Vogel became chief in 1957.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

since the trophy has been up for competition. The trophy was put up for competition in 1957.

Another trophy will be put up next season.

The final Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records including bowl games, and total points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third etc:

1. Alabama 37	9-1-1 537
2. Michigan State 18	10 1 479
3. Arkansas 1	10-1 413
4. UCLA 1	8-2-139

A trio of city slickers from New York have brought cowboy basketball to cowboy country and nobody at Texas Western minds the infiltration.

The Miners rolled to their 11th straight victory Monday night, whipping Tulsa 63-54 at El Paso, as 5-foot-6 Willie Worsley led the attack with 18 points.

Worsley, reserve forward Willie Cager, and 6-foot-7 Nevil Shed, who says he's an inch taller and is the club's second best scorer, all learned their basketball on concrete courts in New York.

The ninth-ranked Miners started slowly but opened a 13-point lead by halftime and then coasted the rest of the way.

Three other ranked teams including Kentucky, the only other undefeated club, also won Monday night.

Adolph Rupp's Wildcats protected their No. 2 ranking with an 80-70 decision over St. Louis. Pat Riley and Louie Dampier paced Kentucky to its ninth straight, Riley scoring 24 and Dampier 20. Rich Parks led the visiting Billikens with 22.

Top-ranked Duke got 25 points from Jack Marin and 21 from Mike Lewis including 10 for 10 from the floor, and rapped Penn State 83-58, at Durham, N.C. The Nittany Lions, who won the Gator Bowl tourney last week, fell behind early and never recovered as Duke ran its record to 10-1.

Bradley, rated No. 5, scored its 11th victory in 12 starts with a 99-52 romp over St. Thomas of Minnesota. Ed Jackson with 21 points and Joe Allen with 20 led the Braves, who shot a sizzling 58 per cent on their home court at Peoria, Ill.

Dayton, 9-1 ripped Xavier 105-79 with sophomore Don May pumping in 45 points, second highest total in Flyer history. Henry Finkel, who scored 44 for Dayton last week, was held to nine, the second lowest total in his three-year varsity career.

Touring Syracuse ran into hot-shooting Creighton and bowed 103-87. Sophomore Wally Anderson led the winners with 23 including 10 of 14 field goal attempts. Syracuse's Dave Bing, averaging 31 points, managed just 20.

Dorrie Murray grabbed 32 rebounds and Lou Hyatt hit 22 points as Detroit whipped visiting West Texas State 68-57. Junior Gee's 20-foot jump shot won 20 seconds to play gave Miami an 88-87 thriller over Utah at Miami, Fla.

In Big Eight conference openers, Kansas ripped visiting Colorado 69-55 with four men in double figures. Kansas State's 7-foot-1 Nick Pino hit 19 points and grabbed 10 rebounds as the Wildcats downed Missouri 78-59 at Columbia. Oklahoma took Oklahoma State 64-53 at Norman.

In South-eastern Conference openers, Tennessee took Tulane 64-46 at Knoxville and Florida nipped Alabama 56-53 at Gainesville, Fla.

Duke remains a solid leader, while unbeaten Kentucky rushed up to take second place. The Blue Devils from Durham, N.C., garnered 389 points, including 10 for each of the 34 first place votes they received in the balloting by a special panel of 42 regional experts.

Duke has won seven games in a row, including victories over Notre Dame and Wake Forest last week that lifted its record to 9-1.

Kentucky advanced from fifth to second after beating Notre Dame 103-69 for its eighth in a row. The Wildcats had five first-place votes and 299 points.

Vanderbilt is third. Then came St. Joseph's, Bradley, Providence, Iowa, Brigham Young, Texas Western and UCLA. The voting was based on games through last Saturday.

Vanderbilt, the runner-up a week ago, slipped to third after losing to Southern California in the Los Angeles Classic. It was the Commodores' first loss of the season.

St. Joseph's, winners of the Quaker City Tournament, climbed from eighth to fourth. The Hawks are 9-2. Bradley fell two places to fifth after losing to Indiana. Providence, the ECAC Holiday Festival champion, jumped from 10th to sixth.

Iowa, loser to Texas Western in the Sun Bowl final, dropped from fourth to seventh. The triumph helped Texas Western, 10-0, move into the No. 9 spot. The Miners were unraked last week.

Brigham Young slipped two notches to eighth after losing for the first time, 71-69 to LaSalle. UCLA, the 1964-65 NCAA champion, moved back into the rankings. The Bruins took over 10th place after winning the Los Angeles Classic.

Michigan, No. 7 a week ago, and Minnesota, No. 9, dropped out of the Top Ten. The Wolverines have lost four games and the Gophers three.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses, records through games of Saturday, Jan. 1, and total points on a 10-9-8-7, etc. basis:

1. Duke 34 9-1	389
2. Kentucky 5 8-0	299
3. Vanderbilt 1 10-1	260
4. St. Joseph's, Pa. 9-2	197
5. Bradley 1 10-1	195
6. Providence 8-1	186
7. Iowa 1 8-1	126
8. Brigham Young 8-1	109
9. Texas Western 10-0	57
10. UCLA 7-3	47

Alabama Voted As 1965 College Football King

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Alabama's Crimson Tide, overwhelming victor over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl, was named the national collegiate football champion for the second straight year today in The Associated Press final poll of the season.

The verdict of a nationwide panel of 57 sports writers and sportscasters made it three titles in five years for Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, and gives 'Bama permanent possession of the big, silver AP trophy.

Ironically, when the Tide won last year, the poll was taken at the close of the regular season and 'Bama went on to lose to Texas in the Orange Bowl.

This year the final poll of the season was conducted after the New Year's bowl games — the first time it had been held until after the bowls — because the six top teams were in action New Year's Day.

And it was the unprecedented defeat of three hitherto unbeaten teams in the bowl game that vaulted Alabama to the national title.

Alabama, with an 8-1-1 record, was ranked fourth behind unbeaten Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska going into the New Year's games.

Top-ranked Michigan State was upset by UCLA 14-12 in the Rose Bowl. No. 2 Arkansas' 22-game winning string was halted 14-7 by Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl and Alabama crushed No. 3 Nebraska 39-28 in the Orange Bowl.

Michigan State slipped to second and Arkansas to third in the final rankings. UCLA moved up from fifth to fourth and Nebraska dropped to fifth.

Following in order were Missouri, 20-18 winner over Florida in the Sugar Bowl, Tennessee, 27-6 winner over Tulsa in the Bluebonnet Bowl, LSU, Notre Dame and Southern California.

Texas Tech, ranked 10th at the end of the regular season but upset 31-21 by Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl, dropped out of the Top Ten and was replaced by Louisiana State.

Alabama polled 37 of the 57 first-place votes and piled up 537 points on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Michigan State collected 18 first-place votes and 479 points while Arkansas and UCLA both were named first on one ballot. Arkansas received 413 points, UCLA 391 and Nebraska 358.

Alabama is the first team to win consecutive national titles since Oklahoma accomplished the feat in 1955 and 1956. 'Bama's two straight championships go with the 1961 title to make it three in five years for Bryant, who formerly coached at Texas A&M and Kentucky.

The three championships give Alabama permanent possession of the AP trophy, which goes to the first team to win three titles.

Annual Sulky Honors To Be Presented

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 500 Ohio harness horsemen are expected here tonight for the annual United States Trotting Association District One (Ohio) business session and banquet.

Two awards, of national and Ohio significance, will be presented at the dinner-dance. They are the USTA-sponsored national dash - winning drive trophy and the Ohio Harness Horse of the Year plaque.

Robert Farrington, the Richwood, Ohio reinsman, will receive his second successive dash - winning championship award. Farrington won a total of 110 races during the 1955 season, falling just three short of breaking his own all-time national total of 312 victories set in 1964.

Ohio Horse of the Year, for the second straight time, is Bret Hanover, the fabled 3-year-old pacer owned by Richard Downer of Cleveland.

Bret captured national honors as a 2-year-old and again in 1965 rolling up the highest number of points ever accorded in national balloting for the award.

Lugannani Is Named Cincinnati Fire Chief

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bert A. Lugannani, 51, a fireman here since 1937, is Cincinnati's new fire chief. He was named Monday to succeed Dan Vogel, who announced a month ago he's retiring effective April 17. Vogel became chief in 1957.

since the trophy has been up for competition. The trophy was put up for competition in 1957.

Another trophy will be put up next season.

The final Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records including bowl games, and total points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third etc:

1. Alabama 37	9-1-1 537
2. Michigan State 18	10-1 479
3. Arkansas 1	10-1 413
4. UCLA 1	8-2-139
5. Nebraska	10-1 358
6. Missouri	8-2-1 260
7. Tennessee	8-1-2 214
8. Louisiana State	8-3 149
9. Notre Dame	7-2-1 123
10. Southern California	7-2-1 80

Springfield Taps Negro As Mayor

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—This city of 83,500 has a new mayor today, a Negro who is the first of his race to become mayor of a major Ohio city.

The City Commission, like Springfield's population four-fifths white, unanimously installed commission member Robert C. Henry, 44, Monday night as its presiding officer—mayor—for the next two years.

Henry is a registered Republican in a slightly Democratic city, but the municipal elections are nonpartisan and Henry never has stressed party.

Springfielders, and fellow commission members, describe Henry as "well-liked"; "shy, calm, almost taciturn, but highly articulate"; "interested in community affairs on a nonracial basis."

Outgoing mayor M. K. Baach, now a private citizen, told the commission Monday night they had made a "wise choice," that Henry "will do a most adequate job."

Henry's wife, Betty, and three children—Robert Jr., 13, Allen, 10, and Lisa, 8—witnessed the swearing-in ceremonies.

Henry remarked that this was a great moment for his race, but also noted that in Mrs. Betty Brunk, the commission was initiating its first woman member ever.

The first scheduled passenger air service across a major ocean was started in 1935 when a Pan American World Airways flying boat made the trip from San Francisco to Manila in 59 hours and 48 minutes. Stops were made at Honolulu, Midway, Wake Island and Guam.

Solons Name Employees for This Year

The naming and rehiring of employees not under departmental jurisdiction was completed Monday afternoon by the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners.

Rehired as Courthouse janitors were Margaret Hickey, Mary Brown and Richard Carpenter. Mrs. Clara Sampsell of Ashville will handle similar duties at the Courthouse Annex (former Shane property) and Chester Frazier will continue as custodian at Memorial Hall.

Ralph Leist was rehired as fireman for the Courthouse, County Jail and Annex.

Mrs. Rosemary Davis will continue as photostat and duplicating machine operator and Ralph Wallace was renamed dog warden.

ALSO renamed were Frank Grice as county ditch supervisor and Earl Boyer as Civil Defense head.

Carl Riffe was hired to haul refuse from the Courthouse, Jail and Annex. Larry Metz will provide this service at the county apartments on W. High St.

The Commission announced a bounty for foxes will continue in Pickaway County, with about $800 set aside for this purpose in the 1966 budget. The amount will remain at $2 per fox.

Demo Committee To Meet Tonight

Members of the Pickaway County Democrat Executive Committee will meet 8 p. m. today in the BPO Elks basement.

The appointment of a rural mail carrier will be discussed. The post will become vacant here when veteran carrier Warren Baker retires.

Various candidates for local and state offices are expected to attend tonight's session, according to William Stout, committee chairman.

Since it was opened in 1955, some 50 million people have visited Disneyland, near Anaheim, Calif.

New Trial Is Ordered For Domer

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Robert K. Domer has come back from death row for a new trial on charges that he murdered Akron fruit peddler Howard F. Riddle nearly three years ago.

Domer was convicted of first-degree murder by a tribunal of common pleas judges and sentenced to die in the electric chair.

But the 47-year-old Domer, former Canton lawyer, mortgage investment broker and civic leader, won a new trial on the grounds that his rights were violated and that the first trial was held in the wrong county.

The retrial gets under way in Stark County Common Pleas Court Wednesday with Earle E. Wise, a former Stark County assistant prosecutor, and Harry W. Schmuck, both of Canton, as defense lawyers.

Higher courts agreed with Domer's appeal of the murder conviction insofar as he claimed the prosecution in the original three-week trial obtained statements without his having had the benefit of counsel.

Riddle's charred body was found in Domer's burning automobile April 23, 1963, on the Wayne County side of a road dividing Wayne and Stark counties. Domer admitted setting the fire.

Ex-Lorain Aide Faces Indictment

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—George Zunich, former Lorain city service director, is scheduled to be tried in Common Pleas Court Jan. 17 on a six-count indictment returned by the Lorain County Grand Jury.

Zunich pleaded innocent Monday before Judge LeRoy F. Kelly, who set the trial date and continued Zunich's bond at $1,500.

The grand jury secretly indicted Zunich Dec. 29 on one count of perjury, one count of willful neglect to comply with civil service rules and four counts of usurpation of office—trying to control affairs in the Lorain Police Department.

Zunich resigned the $10,000-a-year service director's post, effective last Friday, and on Saturday was sworn in as a member of the Lorain Civil Service Commission at an annual salary of $1,780. He said he was giving up the service director's post to devote more time to his insurance sales.

In other action Monday, Judge Kelly overruled demurrers filed by three members of the Lorain Civil Service Commission who were indicted last October on charges involving their handling of Police Department promotions.

Fireman Loses Truck, Goes to Fire on Foot

MANISTIQUE, Mich. (AP)—Fireman Don Belleville made it to a fire—the hard way.

Wreckers later pulled the fire truck from the lake Sunday.

Dr. Schiewetz Is Named to 'Kapton' Post

Dr. Don B. Schiewetz has been appointed plant superintendent of "Kapton" operations at Du Pont's Circleville plant.

Dr. Schiewetz joined Du Pont in 1954 as a research engineer in the Yerkes Research and Development Laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y. He later was named a supervisor in the development section of the company's Research Division in Wilmington, Dela.

He was assigned to Circleville in 1962 as a manufacturing area supervisor in the "Kapton" plant.

DON SCHIEWETZ

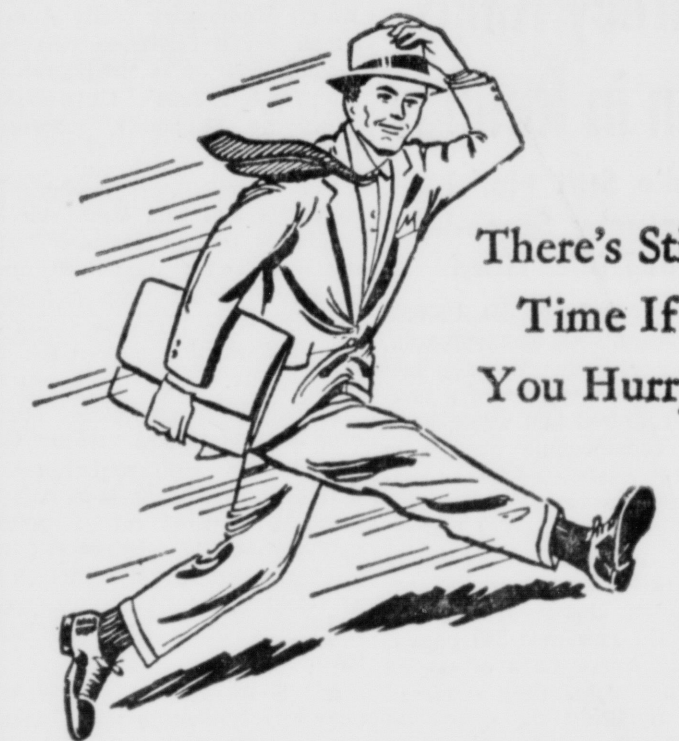

Dr. Schiewetz was awarded a bachelor degree in chemical engineering at Northwestern University. He earned his masters and Ph D degrees at the University of Cincinnati.

THE superintendent and his wife, Patricia, live at 675 Ridgewood Drive. They have one son, Mark, 7. They are members of the Lutheran Church.

Schiewetz is a member of the AICHE professional organization and is active in the local Cancer Society. He is co-chairman of the Nicholas Drive Parent-Teacher Assn. and president of the Ridgewood-Edgewood Betterment League.

Ex-Lorain Aide Faces Indictment

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—George Zurich, former Lorain city service director, is scheduled to be tried in Common Pleas Court Jan. 17 on a six-count indictment returned by the Lorain County Grand Jury.

Zurich pleaded innocent Monday before Judge LeRoy F. Kelly, who set the trial date and continued Zurich's bond at $1,500.

The grand jury secretly indicted Zurich Dec. 29 on one count of perjury, one count of willful neglect to comply with civil service rules and four counts of usurpation of office—trying to control affairs in the Lorain Police Department.

Zurich resigned the $10,000-a-year service director's post, effective last Friday, and on Saturday was sworn in as a member of the Lorain Civil Service Commission at an annual salary of $1,780. He said he was giving up the service director's post to devote more time to his insurance sales.

In other action Monday, Judge Kelly overruled demurrers filed by three members of the Lorain Civil Service Commission who were indicted last October on charges involving their handling of Police Department promotions.

Fireman Loses Truck, Goes to Fire on Foot

MANISTIQUE, Mich. (AP)—Fireman Don Belleville made it to a fire—the hard way.

Losing traction on an icy hill, Belleville's fire truck skidded into nearby Indian Lake. Seizing a fire extinguisher, he ran an eighth of a mile to a burning car and put out the blaze.

Wreckers later pulled the fire truck from the lake Sunday.

Dr. Schiewetz Is Named to 'Kapton' Post

Dr. Don B. Schiewetz has been appointed plant superintendent of "Kapton" operations at Du Pont's Circleville plant.

Dr. Schiewetz joined Du Pont in 1954 as a research engineer in the Verkes Research and Development Laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y. He later was named a supervisor in the development section of the company's Research Division in Wilmington, Dela.

He was assigned to Circleville in 1962 as a manufacturing area supervisor in the "Kapton" plant.

DON SCHIEWETZ

Dr. Schiewetz was awarded a bachelor degree in chemical engineering at Northwestern University. He earned his masters and Ph D degrees at the University of Cincinnati.

THE superintendent and his wife, Patricia, live at 675 Ridgewood Drive. They have one son, Mark, 7. They are members of the Lutheran Church.

Schiewetz is a member of the AICHE professional organization and is active in the local Cancer Society. He is co-chairman of the Nicholas Drive Parent-Teacher Assn. and president of the Ridgewood-Edgewood Betterment League.

NEW YEAR, NEW STRUCTURE FOR BELMONT—Construction continues on the rebuilding project at old Belmont Park in New York where a $30,700,000 new track is being readied for a 1968 opening. This is a general view of work on the new grandstand, which will have 24,500 stadium-type seats under cover facing the track. Some 40,000 fans can be accommodated overall, according to plans.

Horse Sense—and the Mustang Six

I don't know much about engines.

If mine's smooth, powerful and gives great gas mileage, I'm satisfied. That's why I got a Mustang Six.

You don't have to be an engineer to appreciate the Mustang Six. Just get comfortable in one of those deep-foam bucket seats, fire up that husky 200-cu. in. powerplant... and let yourself go.

Nor do you have to be an investment banker to realize you've made a great buy. Standard Mustang Six luxury includes: all vinyl upholstery; plush wall-to-wall carpeting; padded instrument panel and many other extras at no extra cost.

Sound sweet? Mustang makes lots of nice sounds. Optional stereo-sonic tape is one. Another is money jingling in your pocket, thanks to Mustang Six's meager appetite for gasoline.
